BLAST HURTS TWO, CAUSING $10,000 LOSS

Two Buildings Wrecked in Gas Plant Explosion Here

FLYING GLASS HITS MANY

City's Supply Not Impaired is View of Company Men

Terrific explosion felt for five blocks at 7:35 a. m. Monday at the Lima Natural Gas Co., E. Elm-st., severely injured two workmen, wrecked two buildings, destroyed valuable machinery and caused damage estimated at $10,000.

Those injured were: J. F. Stageman, 1311 St. Johns-av., severe shock and bruises. Thomas F. Baird, 230 S. Elizabeth-st., cuts from flying glass and shock.

Injured were taken to St. Rita's hospital where their condition was reported not grave. Other employees trapped by the blast were cut by flying glass and several narrowly escaped injury from falling roof timbers.

1,500 PANES BROKEN

Fifteen hundred panes of glass in the generator and blowing rooms were broken, window sashes were demolished and a valuable blast line from the blowing line to gas machine was wrecked.

Cause of the blast is unknown, company officials stated Monday in estimating the damage at $10,000. The explosion started in the generator and traveled to the blast line. Pressure was about two pounds, but the quantity of gas generated caused the tremendous explosion which wrecked the roof in the generator plant and demolished a large gas tank, which is part of the blast line extending from the generator room to the blowing room.

Stageman, whose home is in Erie, and Baird, who lives in Delphos, but who have been here since June with the Natural Gas Construction Co., Philadelphia, were working in the generator room when the blast occurred.

Falling timbers, flying glass and wood from window frames trapped them. They were immediately taken to St. Rita's hospital. Several other workmen, all of whom were employed by the Construction company, received slight cuts which were not serious enough to necessitate their going to a hospital.

BLOWER WRECKED

Greatest damage is to a high speed blower, which is valued at nearly $9,000. Walls of the building were damaged only slightly. Company officials say they were so built to withstand explosions which are frequent in gas plants.

The explosion Monday was the worst in the history of the local plant, officials said, while work of removing the wreckage proceeded.

The municipal gas supply will not be affected, company officials announced. The large supply tank with a capacity of 1,000,000 feet, is more than two-thirds full and the flow of natural gas with the storage will meet the demands until the plant again is operating at capacity. Supply for company consumption will be slightly impaired, but local manufacturers and residential consumers need have no alarm, was the optimistic report given immediately after the explosion.

CHURCH ADVERTISING PAYS, PASTOR SHOWS

DETROIT — A good program "that will compete with the theater is essential to the modern church," Rev. William L. Stidger, Methodist pastor, told his congregation last night.

Rev. Stidger replied to Horatio S. Earle, "rebel Methodist" who termed him a "Barnum running a vaudeville show" and who withdrew from his own church because there was too much politics in the sermon.

"Because I try to put on a unique and interesting program," the pastor said, "they call these services a show."

Well, maybe they are. And maybe I am a Barnum, but if I am, I am a Barnum for God."

Rev. Stidger declared that last year he spent $3,000 in advertising, but took in $10.00 in just the loose collections.

SIGNS OWN RELEASE

AKRON—Despite protests of attending physicians and nurses, who declared he had a broken back, M. J. Rednour signed his own release slip and walked out of the City hospital last evening. Rednour was run down by an automobile Friday.

HE'S YOUNGEST

Albion, Mich., claims the youngest city manager in the country in the person of Donald F. Herrick, 24, who has held that position for several months.

Illinois Mine, Largest in World, Scene of Blast

922 WORKERS IN THE PIT

Great Disaster Prevented by Barrier Pillar System

CHICAGO — (Associated Press)

Two miners are dead and eight others badly burned in a West Frankfort hospital, but all others who were endangered by an explosion this morning in the northwestern part of the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal Company's mine number one near West Frankfort, one of the largest if not the largest mine in the world, are believed to be above ground, according to a message received at the company's offices this afternoon.

The mine employs more than 1,000 men, 922 of whom were in the mine when the explosion occurred.

CAUSED BY GAS

The explosion probably was caused by gas and a great disaster probably was averted by the barrier pillar system in use in the mine, it was said. The advice received over the company's private wire, indicated that the explosion occurred in the northwest corner of the mine, probably about a mile from the shaft.

The explosion occurred on a level five hundred feet below the surface, and the information received from Joseph Louis, general superintendent, indicated, it was said, that the trouble had been localized. This he attributed to the barrier system by means of which entries are closed and the workings where an explosion or fire occurs are cut off from the remainder of the mine which includes miles of underground tunnels.

Crew of 30 Men Periled off Washington Coast

SEATTLE, Wash. — (Associated Press)—The Japanese freighter Shinkoku went ashore today near Montague Island, Prince William Sound, Alaska, and was expected to be a total loss, according to a dispatch received here from Cordova, Alaska. The dispatch said nothing of the fate of the more than thirty men who were aboard the Shinkoku.

CHEAP POLITICS SCORNE BY DEMOCRATIC LEADER

WASHINGTON — Considerations of "mere temporary partisan advantage" will not tempt the Democratic members of congress "to play cheap or mean politics at the expense of the people as did the Republicans during 1919 and 1920," Representative Garrett of Tennessee declares in a statement urging abstention from partisanship in dealing with the problem of taxation.

Garrett who is expected to be re-elected Democratic leader in the house, excerpts only the present "iniquitous high tariff" in his appeal for non-partisan consideration of "twin question of revenue and finance."

His statement emphasizes with reference to Secretary Mellon's proposals for tax reductions that "everybody, everywhere" favors reducing the normal taxes.

RECORDS MAY BE BROKEN IN BIG PROGRAM

Building & Loan Associations Are Deluged With Requests

DEPOSITS ARE INCREASING

Moderate Priced Houses Find Favor, Officials Discover

Increased deposits and applications and inquiries for construction loans, made at the six building and loan associations of the city, gave an indication of an unusually heavy building program for 1924, according to information obtainable at the office of the six companies Monday morning.

According to a survey by the Ohio Building Association League there will be a demand for $100,000,000 for building work in Ohio in 1924 and Lima, according to local building and loan companies, is going to make its share of that demand.

Officials of each of the six local companies said Monday that there is no doubt but that 1924 construction will go ahead of that for this year but they were emphatic in pointing out that the demand is for the moderate priced homes instead of the more pretentious residence.

EARLY APPLICATIONS

While November is admitted to be considerably early for any applications to be filed for 1924 construction loans, inquiry Monday revealed the fact that a number of such applications have already been filed. And this despite the fact that the building season will not get started before next April at the outside, unless there should be an unusually early spring.

At the Citizens Loan & Building Co. offices, for example, it was said that there have already been between 20 and 25 applications for construction loans for next year's work and these carried an average of $5,000 per loan. This would indicate construction work amounting to about $100,000 and it is now only November. Officials pointed out that there have been a healthy increase in the office of the Mutual Savings & Loan Co. it was said that five applications for 1924 construction loans have already been filed and a number of inquiries have been made. The average sum named in these applications, it was stated, there Monday morning is $5,000. Deposits show a big increase, it was said.

DOZEN INQUIRIES

Central Building & Loan Co. officials said that they have received about a dozen applications and inquiries for loans for 1924 building work but that no figures are yet obtainable. Officials said that most likely they would run in the neighborhood of $4,000 to $6,000 each. Deposits show a big increase over last year, the officials said.

Allen Savings & Loan Co. officials said that they do not receive applications for next year's building loans but that there has been, in the last six weeks, an unusually heavy increase in deposits which would indicate, they say, a healthy building demand for next year.

Lima Home & Savings Co. officials said they have no construction loan applications on file but have received a number of inquiries. One of the things that impresses them, they said, is the fact that the demand for homes will be large next year. People are seeking the home that sells for $4,500 to $6,000 with the demand largest for the cheaper kind they say.

COSTS AWAKED

South Side Building & Loan Co. officials say they have no loan applications for 1924 construction but they have received some inquiries. Many people, it was said there Monday, will hold back until they can get a line on what building materials are going to cost.

One of the phases of new construction brought out during the talks with various building and loan officials is that there was not sufficient ready money in Lima in 1923 to meet all the demands for construction loans. Whether this condition will be relieved in 1924 the officials were unable to forecast. If there is sufficient money to meet the building loan demand, Lima can look for one of its greatest building seasons, according to the officials.

Three-weeks-old Baby Dies in Mother's Arms

CONFLUENCE, Pa.—(Associated Press)—Samuel Roscoe, his wife and seven children were burned to death early today when their home on a hill half a mile from the village was destroyed. All the bodies have been recovered.

Roscoe, who had been a miner, recently bought a farm near Confluence and moved his family into an old log house. When the fire broke out the flames spread rapidly and before help could reach the family the structure collapsed.

The bodies were found in the cellar, some of them in the charred beds which had dropped from the second story.

The seven children ranged in age from 13 years to three weeks, the infant being found in its mother's arms.

The fire supposedly was caused by an overheated stove.

GIRL BURNS TO DEATH

WILLARD, Ohio — (Associated Press)—Esther Cole, 19, was burned to death and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole, and fourteen year old sister, Lucy, were injured seriously last night when an explosion of a can of kerosene set fire and destroyed the family home on a farm near Celeryville, two miles south of here.

12 HOUSES BURNED

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio.—(Associated Press)—Fire, starting in six different buildings on farms owned by Thomas Mattinson, one mile west of South Charleston, early today, caused damages estimated at $100,000. Twelve buildings, including four barns, were destroyed. Mr. Mattinson says he believes the fires were of incendiary origin.

Shick Convicted on Charge of Unlawful Possession

POLICE SEE NEW WEAPON

Evidence of Tasting Smelling Upheld by Judge Poling

What police say is a dead knell to "bootleggers" in Lima was sounded Monday morning when Criminal Judge Neil R. Poling, found Otto Shick, E. Market-st. soft drink cafe proprietor, guilty of illegal possession.

The court found Shick guilty of illegal possession of liquor and imposed a $500 fine.

Defense counsel filed a stay of execution for re-trial in common pleas court before Judge Fred C. Becker.

Broken whisky bottle and a whisky glass confiscated by Sheriff Crosson, Deputies Smith and Osburn and Detective Lawlor, produced in court, constituted the only direct evidence against the defendant.

NO LIQUOR TAKEN

No whisky was confiscated in the raid. Ability of raiders to distinguish by taste and smell comprised the evidence upon which the court based the decision.

"The law holds proof by taste," Judge Poling said as part of his decision, "and the sense of smell is one of the five senses and I can't distinguish between the two."

The Shick case tried under the city liquor law ordinance served as a test case. It is the first in the history of Lima criminal court where a direct decision has been given upholding the police in prosecution where no "wet" goods have been obtained.

Shick's place was raided on Sunday, Nov. 18, after federal, state and anti-liquor league agents had searched the city.

WARNS BROTHER

They passed thru a furniture store adjoining the soft drink cafe and trapped Otto Shick in a rear room. Oscar Shick, who was in the front of the establishment, warned his brother of the raiders, police say.

"Boat it," police say Oscar cried. Raiders headed by Sheriff Crosson rushed thru the door leading into the rear room. Sheriff Crosson and Deputy Smith testified they saw Shick throw a bottle on the floor.

At the trial before Judge Poling, Sheriff Crosson testified the contents spilled on the floor smelled like whisky.

Deputy Smith said it not only smelled like whisky but it tasted like whisky.

Detective Lawlor said it was whisky for it smelled like whisky.

The bottom of the broken bottle and a whisky glass found in the room were exhibited as evidence.

After referring his decision until Monday, Judge Poling announced he had weighed the evidence and his decision was given in conjunction with the evidence submitted.

STRANGE ANGLES

"My only alternative was to find the defendant guilty," Judge Poling ruled. "The case had strange angles. The fact that the brother sounded a warning when raiders swooped down on the place; raiders seeing Shick break the bottle; his presence in the rear room isolated from the rest of the establishment, and the testimony of all the raiders that the contents smelled like whisky and the testimony of one that it tasted like whisky served to make me rule against the defendant."

"If some higher court wants to reverse the decision," Poling said, "all well and good, but my decision stands."

Poling's decision will arm the police "vice" squad with a weapon for eventual extermination of "blind tigers," "jank joints" and "bootlegging joints," operated under guise of soft drink cafes, police say.

PREVIOUS HANDICAP

Police Chief Lanker says about 75 per cent of the raids during the last year have proved unsuccessful because liquor was dumped and no "wet" evidence was obtained.

Under Poling's ruling the department must taste, smell or see the accused dump the liquor, providing additional evidence is submitted to substantiate the charges of the department.

Defense counsel contended that the court ruled in error on the grounds that in the charge of possession the defendant did not possess liquor and all the evidence produced

LIMA FAMILY IS IN ACCIDENT

Escape Death in Collision Near Kenton Sunday Night

8 KILLED THRUOUT STATE

Fatalities Reported From all Parts of Ohio Monday

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bowdle, 544 Prospect-st., and daughter, Dorothy May 3, had a narrow escape from death at 9:30 p. m. Sunday on the Marion-rd three miles from Kenton when their automobile overturned after being struck from the rear by a speeding automobile.

The child was thrown from the automobile and escaped injury. Bowdle sustained bruises to his head and neck and Mrs. Bowdle suffered body bruises and shock.

The driver of the car responsible for the accident was probably seriously hurt. He went thru the windshield. After the accident he went to Kenton and left the city after receiving medical attention, Kenton police reported. His name was not obtained.

SLAWS UP

Mr. and Mrs. Bowdle, with their daughter Dorothy who was asleep in the back seat, were enroute to Lima. About three miles northwest of Kenton on the Marion-rd in passing a number of automobiles, Bowdle slowed down and the speeding car smashed into the rear of his automobile.

Dorothy May Bowdle was thrown clear of the wreckage to the side of the road. She was unhurt. The Bowdle car overturned twice and stopped in the ditch. The occupants crawled to safety thru the wreckage and were greeted by the cries of their daughter.

EIGHT KILLED

COLUMBUS.—(United Press.)—Automobile accidents took a toll of eight lives in Ohio over the weekend, the compilation of the United Press revealed today.

Two persons perished in Cleveland and Lockland and Wayne sherg. One death each was reported from Maumee and Akron.

CINCINNATI.—(United Press)

Two persons are dead and three are in Cincinnati general hospitals today suffering injuries as the result of the collision of a Sharonville, Ohio, bus and a Big Four railroad train in Lockland, near here, yesterday. The dead: Fred Rahe, 53, Sharonville, marshal, and driver of the bus; McElion Griffin, 20, near West Middletown.

WAYNESBURG, Ohio.—(United Press.)—This city's week-end traffic accidents claimed two lives. Pancozio Pandora, 40, and Gasparino Giarratino, 37, were killed when the automobile crashed into a moving train.

AKRON.—(United Press.)—

With the death of Albinus Andrezejewski, 7, late Sunday, the death toll from traffic accidents in Summit-co in 1923, mounted to 57.

TOLEDO.—(United Press)—

John Kutas, 35, was killed Sunday when a Lima-Toledo interurban car hit the automobile which he was driving near Maumee. Mrs. Sophie Kutas, his bride of two months, and Stephen Saly, who were in the automobile, were seriously, but not fatally hurt.

Train Runs Over Man, Still Lives

CLEVELAND — (United Press)

Two policemen saw Jack Abrams, sound asleep directly in the path of a speeding Wheeling and Lake Erie passenger train of six cars.

They rushed to the rescue—but too late—the train had roared over him.

Then, as the lights of the last coach died out in the darkness, the officers stepped forward to pick up the pieces.

Abrams stirred, sat up, yawned and demanded to know what all the noise was about.

In police court today he was fined the costs, because, as he said, "I must have been drunk."

YOUNG MAN SHOT TO DEATH

Former Student's Body Found Near University of Chicago

CHICAGO — (Associated Press)

The police are unable to establish a plausible motive for the slaying of Freeman Louis Tracy, 23, former University of Chicago student, found dead near the university here yesterday. Tracy had been shot thru the temple and his body apparently thrown from a speeding automobile, police said. Several blocks away was his hat. His watch and $41 in cash were in his pockets.

Daniel Murphy, who took Tracy part way home and William Ambrose, with whom the slain man is said to have had trouble recently, were taken to police headquarters.

Murphy told of leaving Tracy a few blocks from his home where he had taken him in an automobile from a dance. Ambrose disclaimed any knowledge of the case.

According to Murphy, he dropped Tracy shortly after midnight. It was three hours later that his body was found by a passerby.

MIDWINTER WEATHER HITS NORTHEASTERN STATES

ALBANY, N. Y.—Northeastern states are experiencing midwinter weather. A Sunday blizzard left a blanket of snow over the upper Hudson and eastern Mohawk valleys.

Albany, Troy and Schenectady had six to eight inches of snow. Electric car service was crippled and wire communication delayed.

In the eastern Adirondacks sleighing replaced motoring and snow drifts hampered steam traffic.

"RUM KING" HELD FOR SMUGGLING

Crew of Captured British Ship Had $200,000 in Cash

100 CASES LIQUOR ABOARD

U. S. Cutters Fired at as They End Five Months Chase

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — "Rummy Bill" McCoy, whom government agents call the "king of the rum runners," appears today before a United States commissioner with eight British seamen, crew of the schooner Tomako, charged with smuggling liquor.

The men, who surrendered yesterday after the coast guard cutter Seneca had fired twice across the Tomako's bow had $100,000 in cash in their pockets and 200 cases of liquor in the hold. They will make their defense, McCoy says, on the fact that the ship was 6-12 miles from shore when captured.

SOUGHT FIVE MONTHS
McCoy who is said to be under indictment for violation of the prohibition law and who has been sought for five months along the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida, had $60,000. Government agents said this amount was received for four thousand cases of liquor already sold to American bootleggers. The cargo was taken on in the Bahamas.

The crew of the Tomako, after her capture yesterday about six miles off the Jersey shore, threatened a coast guard boarding officer and attempted a dash to sea, after firing her machine guns at the cutters Seneca and Lexington.

These additional facts were brought out in an official report made today to the collector of the port who was investigating the alleged British registry of the schooner whose seizure, it was reported from London, might bring a formal protest from the British government.

SEIZURE ORDERED
WASHINGTON — (United Press) — The rum runner Tomako captured off Seabright, N. J., by coast guard cutters, was seized on direct orders from the department of justice here, officials of the coast guard said today.

Instructions for prosecuting the case were telephoned to the United States attorney at New York this morning from the department.

BRITAIN MAY PROTEST
LONDON — (Associated Press) — If the schooner Tomako, seized by the American authorities off the New Jersey coast, is proved to be a British ship with her papers in order, the British government will probably lodge a formal protest to Washington against her seizure outside the three mile limit, it was said here today.

The British protest would be in order to keep the record clear on the three mile issue pending final agreement on the rum running treaty permit seizures outside that limit.

LIQUOR CONFISCATED
WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The United States government will prosecute at the American-Canadian conference on liquor smuggling opening tomorrow at Ottawa that clearance of ships destined for United States ports with liquor cargoes, be prohibited by Canada; that search and seizure of vessels engaged in smuggling on the Great Lakes be authorized and that a treaty arrangement be made for extradition of persons accused of violating the liquor laws.

OPEN SEASON EXPIRES ON PHEASANTS, GROUSE

Expiration of the open season on pheasants, grouse and Hungarian partridge, which opened Nov. 15 along with rabbit season, expired Sunday, causing a decrease in the rush for hunting license applications. John T. Cotner, clerk of court states.

In reality Saturday was the last day for hunting because all Sunday hunting is strictly forbidden. Rabbit hunting, which is the principal outdoor pastime in the county at present will continue until Jan. 1. Owing to the open weather, many hunters report poor success.

NONE OF FATAL SPECIFIC USED IN LIMA HOSPITAL

None of the specific that caused the death of three inmates at the Longview state hospital at Cincinnati was in use at the Lima State hospital, Dr. Charles Clark said Monday.

The specific found faulty at Cincinnati was of a different brand from that used here, he said, and the supplies on hand are being held pending word from the state board of health.

During the early use of the specific, there were numerous cases similar to the ones reported Saturday, Dr. Clark said, but at the present time better medicine is provided.

Portions of the Cincinnati specific have been sent to the federal laboratories at Washington for examination, state officials said Monday.

JOHNSON MAKES FIRST SPEECH TUESDAY NIGHT

CHICAGO — Hiram W. Johnson, United States senator from California, the only avowed Republican presidential candidate, will arrive in Chicago today to open his campaign.

He will deliver his first real speech since announcing his candidacy tomorrow night at dinner at the Cook County Hotel Estate board. He is expected to speak "freely" detailing some of his platform principles and indicating his campaign policy.

Today Johnson is expected to confer with William Wrigley, Jr., chairman of his Illinois committee, and other prominent Republicans supporting him.

FLIGHTS CALLED OFF
DAYTON — All further flights with the Belling bomber, the world's largest airplane, have been called off, the plane being condemned for further use, it was learned today.

Sweeping crusade to stamp out illicit traffic of liquor in the city is expected to be inaugurated immediately by Police Chief Lanker as the result of his statement last Thursday, during the Shick trial that he proposed triple prosecution of "bootleggers."

Lanker plans prosecution under the city ordinance, state law or Crabbie act and the Volstead or federal prohibition law.

Solicitor Paul Landis ruled that the city has the authority to act under the three laws and with this weapon as a threat Police Chief Lanker is planning a city wide drive to screw the clamps down so tight that a bootlegger won't operate within the city.

ROTARY HEARS TALK ON SAFETY MOVEMENT

J. Harry Goldie, manager of the Detroit Safety Council, was the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon meeting Monday. Goldie told of the enormous number of lives of men, women and children lost each year as a direct cause of carelessness. He said there are more lives lost in accidents each year in the United States than the total number of Americans killed in the World War.

Rotarians voted to contribute a donation to the annual roll call of Allen-co chapter, American Red Cross, the amount to be decided by the board of trustees.

Samuel Siddall of Warren, district governor of Rotary, will address the Lima club on Monday, December 10.

STEAMER BREAKS IN TWO DURING VIOLENT STORMS

HALIFAX, N. S. — The British steamer River Wye, from Swansea, for Boston, broke in two last night during a violent southeast gale off this port. Captain Williams and a crew of 5 men were saved.

The River Wye, with 5100 tons of Welsh anthracite coal, went ashore in a dense fog on Port Moulton Island, south Nova Scotia Saturday.

ROTARIANS ARE "SHOT"
Over 100 members of the Lima Rotary club were shot at 1 p. m. Monday. Results of the "shooting" will be shown at the Quilna theatre about December 10. As Rotarians left the Norval Hotel Monday following the luncheon meeting a moving picture operator "shot" them. Purpose of taking the picture is to compile in picture a "Who's Who in Rotary."

Additional judgment of $112 is sought in an answer filed by Cloyd L. Armstrong, plaintiff, in a suit against W. A. Cary, contractor, in common pleas court. Original judgment sought was $325 for services in connection with repairs on a car. The additional sum sought is for storage of a car from August, 1922, to November, 1923.

Roy Miller, assistant city engineer, and Mrs. Miller left Monday for a visit of a week down state.

Pupils in the crippled children's school gave the annual Thanksgiving party at the Garfield school at 1:30 p. m. Monday. Miss Florence Moore was in charge. Many Rotarians attended the party.

SUICIDE MYSTERY TO BE PROBED

Victim Lived Under His Dead Partners' Name, Note Says

MCCRORY, Ark. — (United Press) — David Arnof will sail from New York for South America, within a few days, to clear up definitely the mystery of the suicide in Buenos Aires of a man who had been living under the name of Jacob M. Arnof. In a suicide note "Arnof" stated he assumed the name of a dead man to cloak his real identity in swindling operations and that he was really Harry Wolfe of New Orleans.

According to members of the Arnof family living here, Jacob Arnof and Wolfe went to Buenos Aires in 1920.

Letters came regularly from Jacob, they said, until the latter part of 1920, when they stopped suddenly for about three months. When letters began arriving again members of the family said the handwriting had changed entirely and no mention was made of intimate family affairs.

ARNOF DROWNED
The suicide note stated, according to dispatches, that Arnof had been drowned before Wolfe assumed his name and identity. While going under the name of Arnof, the note admitted, Wolfe swindled the Buenos Aires office of the United States shipping board out of a large sum of money.

The Arnof family received a telegram from David Arnof in New York, stating he was leaving immediately for Buenos Aires, although all relatives here are convinced that the story told in the suicide note is true.

INTERNATIONAL FAIR PROMOTED BY CUBANS

HAVANA — Cuban business men will seek to bring together the world's producers, sellers and buyers in an international sample fair to be held in Havana Feb. 9-24, 1924. Almost all branches of industry are to be represented under the plans of the fair organization which is headed by Frank Steinhart, an American who has been in business here since the war with Spain.

Efforts are being made to enlist the aid of chambers of commerce in the United States, all Latin-American and many European countries. The Cuban minister of agriculture, commerce and labor has promised to lend his aid.

The fair will be held at the height of the tourist season, and the Cuban national commission for promotion of tourism has agreed to arrange the dates for the various winter sports and carnivals to coincide with the fair.

The exhibits will represent agricultural products and machinery, the automotive industry, textile products, furniture, clothing industry, tobacco and sugar, and almost all the products of the world that minister to man's wants or luxuries. If the first fair is a success, it probably will be made an annual event.

Actions Part of Covenant's Plan to Prevent War

GENEVA. — (United Press) — The League of Nations has just passed the five hundred mark for the number of international treaties that have been registered with the secretariat for publication and world wide publicity.

This provision of the covenant, rendering invalid any treaty concluded between two or more states until it has been registered with the league, was expected to prove a death blow to secret alliances and a preventive of war.

Recently a marked tendency has developed on the part of leaguers to file all agreements of a more or less "alliance" or "mutually defensive" character, and which before the war would have been guarded with the most jealous secrecy.

The league is confident that the 500 treaties that have been registered to date include every treaty or agreement that has been negotiated by leaguers since the end of the war, although some delay is admitted to have taken place in the filing of some of the more important "defensive" agreements.

Among the most interesting treaties filed recently is the famous Santa Margherita agreement between Italy and Serbia for the final adjustment of Fiume and the Adriatic situation, the terms of which were kept secret for eighteen months; the peace treaty between Germany and the United States, which was filed by Germany, although neither she nor the United States are members of the league; the defensive alliance of the little entente and the Franco-Polish defensive alliance.

FORBES SHOWN AS DESERTER IN PAPERS

WASHINGTON — Papers said by war department officials to show that at one time Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, was dropped from the rolls of the army as a deserter, were turned over to the senate veterans committee today by the department.

The record, sent to the committee at its request, also was said to show that later Forbes was apprehended, served out his term of enlistment and was discharged without having been brought to trial.

SLIM WOMEN WIN IN STYLE EDICT

"Straight Line" Rules Supreme in New Parisian Designs

"STOUTS" ARE OUT O' LUCK

Classic Tailleur Has Call for Street and Travel

PARIS — (Associated Press) — The official style openings are now a thing of the past, and it would seem that the new dress lines put all but slim women at a disadvantage; a veritable cult of slimmness has been developed.

While there is the greatest variety in the matter of detail, and one is allowed the circular or plain, the embroidered and the unembroidered, the fundamental principle of the "straight line" remains supreme.

For street and travel wear the classic tailleur has the call, and so many women have been faithful to it despite the changing fashions, that the great textile manufacturers of northern France are now creating fabrics designed especially for it.

The kasha, marokkelaie and velours de Smyrne, particularly the latter, are the materials used by most of the Parisian dressmakers for tailleur and coats. The velours de Smyrne, coming in plaids and stripes, with a soft velvety surface, and all the sturdy qualities of wool, is the most popular fabric among the fashionable frequenters of the Bois de Boulogne and the Champs Elysees, soft dark green being the color most in demand.

Simplicity is the keynote. Button or braided trim, or without adornment, these garments for morning and street wear all retain a snug, exact fit which is causing despair among the women who admit they are somewhat plump. Slim woman, on the other hand, have no fault to find.

COATS LONGER
As a rule the coats of the 1924 tailleur are longer than they have been for several seasons, in many cases about three-quarters or more. They also take the simple, straight lines, and are often the wrap-around variety, extremely smart and very popular. Braided coats with fur collars and cuffs, worn over simple little straight line dresses, are a variation.

A tailored dress of tawny brown velvet de Smyrne, recently seen at Longchamp, has buttons for trimmings and button holes of dull blue leather. A dull blue leather belt completes the rather striking ensemble.

Models made of knitted goods, incorporating into the tricot tailleur all the fashionable features of the cloth article, were also ushered in with the first chill of autumn. Some of these knitted suits have borders woven into them which give the same effect as embroidery.

But whether made of velvet, cloth or knitted goods, the tailor made suits of the 1923-1924 season, with their straight lines and snug fitting cut, conspire to make the coming months a period of despair for women who are plump.

ICY WASTES OF NORTH STILL CALL TO DR. NANSEN

WASHINGTON — The lure of the northern ice wastes is stronger today in the heart of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous Norwegian explorer, than his high position of world-wide fame as an administrator, Nobel peace prize winner and world peace advocate. If life were only a little longer the intrepid Arctic explorer would go back North.

Nansen, who started here an American tour in behalf of European relief and world peace, wishfully voiced the wish that he might once again brave the perils and hardships of the Arctic night, where many years ago he won fame.

He preferred to talk of Arctic exploration than of world conditions. The spare, blue-eyed, vigorous old man predicted success for Roald Amundsen in the effort to fly in an airplane to the North Pole.

SMALL DAMAGE IS CAUSED IN SMALL MONDAY FIRES

Damage estimated at $200 was caused Monday morning by fire at the home of Harry Stevenson, 811 E. Third-st. Mrs. Stevenson discovered the blaze on the second floor, origin of which is unknown. A valuable rug and furniture was damaged.

Picture hanging over an open fire caused a fire at 9:25 a. m. Monday at the home of P. A. Sauer, 721 S. Metcalf-st. There was no damage.

ARMY, NAVY FORM DEFENSE BOARD

Joins in Supreme Council for Studying Problems

WASHINGTON — Through the completion of a reorganization program begun immediately after the World War, the United States at last has a supreme council of national defense which is declared by service experts to be the most efficient ever effected.

An even half dozen officers, three army and three navy men, comprise the council, officially termed the joint board. Appointments are all ex-officio, the detail of an office to membership on the board. The president of the organization includes Gen. John J. Pershing, chief of staff; Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, deputy chief and head of the army war plans division, and Brig. Gen. Brian H. Wells, for the land forces, and the chief naval director of war plans of the navy, Rear Admiral W. R. Shoemaker, and the assistant chief of operations, Rear Admiral R. H. Jackson, for the navy.

To this board is referred finally every major problem involving the national security, and all items of information and all rumors which may have a remote bearing upon the national defense. The new organization enters into a network over the entire country, having representation in every naval district and army corps area, where officers of the two services meet regularly to discuss the defense of the section under their charge and its relation to the national strategic plan.

The joint aeronautical board has been made virtually an adjunct of the super-council thru an order which requires its recommendation to be referred to the higher tribunal. A similar restriction upon the joint munitions board, composed of the assistant secretaries of war and navy, brings this agency of defense under the same directing control.

CHANGES MADE BY NICKEL PLATE

Freight Schedule on Clover Leaf to be Shaken up

DELPHOS — Effective Dec. 1, a change in freight service has been ordered on the Clover Leaf railroad between Delphos and Bellevue, Ind. The order effects trains No. 41 and 44 on the Clover Leaf, and will also effect trains of the Nickel Plate road, of which the Clover Leaf is now a part. Freight trains are to be run from Delphos to Bellevue, one day and back the next. One Clover Leaf crew and two Nickel Plate crews will be utilized by this plan. Plans are being made to increase the service by two crews on the Clover Leaf and four on the Nickel Plate.

Changes are also in contemplation by officials of the Nickel Plate system under which three express trains would run from St. Louis, Mo., to Cleveland and Buffalo. One route under consideration would be over the L. E. & W. from Frankfort to Lima and then to Toledo, another and considered the most probable, would be over the L. E. & W. to Frankfort from St. Louis, then over the Clover Leaf from Frankfort to Toledo, and then to Cleveland and Buffalo. It also has been hinted there may be changes in the passenger service over the Nickel Plate and Clover Leaf between the Louisville and eastern points, but nothing definite is available now along that line.

COMPLAINT OF ROBBERY COSTS LIMA MAN $11.80

DELPHOS — It cost Ed McElath, Lima, $11.80 to complain to Delphos police he had been robbed. McElath told police $30 had been taken from him. Several days later he was released for lack of evidence. McElath, however, was charged with being drunk. He pleaded guilty and was fined $7 and costs of $4.80.

SHEPHERD OF GALILEE TO DESCRIBE COUNTRY

DELPHOS — Stephen A. Hahoush, a shepherd boy of Galilee, assisted by his wife, will present an illustrated lecture on the Holy Land, with moving pictures at the Presbyterian church next Friday night, under auspices of the young people of the church. Hahoush was born among the hills of Galilee and tended flocks of sheep on his father's lands there.

SUGAR BEET STORY TOLD TO KIWANIS MEMBERS

DELPHOS — The special speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday noon at the Beckman house was Charles H. Allen of Defiance, president of the Farmers Beet Sugar Co. of that city. Allen gave the story of sugar beet planting of the seed to the consumer, and revealed in a most interesting manner the scope and importance of the sugar beet industry. A musical program and good attendance of members were other features of the gathering.

REDEDICATION SERVICE HELD BY DELPHOS CHURCH

DELPHOS — Rededication and home coming services at North chapel, the Methodist church east of Delphos, were attended largely Sunday. The new district superintendent, Dr. L. E. Motter, of Lima, gave the morning sermon and conducted quarterly meeting. A picnic dinner was served at noon, with many former members attending. In the afternoon, Rev. Dr. W. A. Denton of Delphos, preached at the closing service. Short talks were given also by former pastors and members.

The chapel has been redecorated and a new heating system installed.

POSTAL ROUTES INSPECTED

DELPHOS — The semi-annual inspection of the city mail carrier routes is in progress. Raymond Stalikam, one of the postoffice's clerical force, accompanied each carrier as the latter makes his regular trip for the morning distribution. Any changes which might be made for convenience of the patrons or improvement of the service are noted and reported in reports to Postmaster Truesdale.

PEARMAN TO SPEAK

DELPHOS — Thomas Pearman, Y. M. C. A. secretary, Lima, will deliver the principal address at the meeting of the Men's association of Delphos at the Methodist church Tuesday night. A musical program will be presented and a light lunch served.

SAVING HABITS BLAMED FOR LOW WHEAT PRICES

WASHINGTON — Needless continuation of bread saving habits formed in war-time department of agriculture officials declared in a statement issued today, is limiting American wheat consumption to the disadvantage of both producer and consumer. A return to pre-war food habits in the use of wheat by the public and the feeding of low grade wheat to livestock, department experts assert, would help greatly toward solving the wheat problem. The price of bread in cities has not fallen with the price of wheat and flour, says the statement. A pound loaf of bread which in Minneapolis in 1913-14 cost 5.3 cents now costs approximately 9 cents, while flour which in 1913-14 cost $4.43 a barrel now costs $6.89. Allowing 280 loaves to the barrel, the margin between the flour prices and the bread price has increased from $10.40 to $18.30.

Maniac Carries $10,000 Secreted In His Clothing

More than $10,000 in cash, Liberty bonds, notes and checks and deposit certificates were found secreted in the garments of S. W. Burkholder, madman of Rockport, when he was brought into probate court Monday.

Burkholder was captured by Sheriff Crosson and his men Saturday, after he had run amuck and terrorized the neighborhood. He attempted to discharge a shotgun at the officers when they approached. Sheriff Crosson grappled with the madman and wrestled the weapons from him.

The notes and checks escaped attention of the officers when they searched him in the county jail. Many of the notes and checks had been carried so long they were practically worn out. They were examined by Probate Judge Hamilton and a brother of the accused, and a total of more than $7,100 identified as having a cash value. A mass of other papers were in too bad shape to be recognizable.

Physicians who examined Burkholder Monday pronounced him insane. He will be taken to Toledo hospital. Relatives will be given charge of the fortune.

MAN AND STEPSON GO ON TRIAL

Both Charged With Murder of Missing Army Officer

ORLANDO, Fla. — (Associated Press) — John Clore and his stepson Raymond Taylor went on trial here today before Circuit Judge Charles O. Andrews charged with first degree murder, having been indicted early this year in connection with mysterious disappearance of Alexander P. Boyer, of Wilmington, Del., a former army officer.

On Dec. 21, 1922, hunters in a densely wooded section in West Orange came upon a human skeleton partly covered with mud and leaves. A cap with an army insignia and army boots were found nearby. A gold collar button with the initials "B" also was found. Some time later Boyer's mother wrote local officials asking if the skeleton was that of her son from whom she had heard nothing for about a year. Chief of Police Ed Vestel conducted an examination and finally it was decided the remains were those of Boyer.

The state alleges Clore assisted by his stepson, killed Boyer as a result of the former army officer's attention to Clore's wife. It was alleged in preliminary hearings that the couple lured Boyer into the woods and killed him. Boyer was married and had several children. The family came here some time previous to Boyer's disappearance but due to differences between his wife and himself over educating the children she left him and returned north. Boyer remained on a small farm near here.

KENTUCKY WANTS ITS FORMER CITIZENS BACK FOR REUNION IN JUNE

Said the mayor of Louisville to the mayor of Lima, "have you any stray Kentuckians in your city? If so, please send them back home for Kentucky's great home coming next June."

Mayor Huson of Louisville has written Mayor Harold Cunningham asking him to request all former Kentuckians to write him sending their names and address of every other Kentuckian of whom they have knowledge.

"We want to borrow your Kentuckians for a fortnight or so next June, while they attend Kentucky's 1924 home coming," wrote the mayor of Louisville. "They will come back to you even better citizens than they are now. I feel sure you have some of them among the good people of your community, for migrating Kentuckians of worthy character never fail to land on their feet in a first class town." He says nearly a million Kentuckians have migrated and Kentucky wants them all back home next June.

HUSBAND'S LOVE COOLS WHEN WIFE LEAVES HIM

Absence may make the heart grow fonder for some, but Homer J. Clemans, found otherwise he asserts in an action for divorce instituted in common pleas court Monday, naming Alice E. Clemans, defendant.

His wife, he asserts, left him without cause and stayed away. His love cooled as her absence lengthened. Now he wants a decree severing marital bonds. He also accuses his mate of neglecting her household duties.

AUDITOR CHECKING CITY'S STATUS ON BOND ISSUES

Complete checking of the bond issues of the city has been started by City Auditor C. H. Churchill in order to give him correct data on the entire outstanding bonded indebtedness of the city, he said Monday. Since assuming office he has been using the old books of his predecessor and he wants to install a new bookkeeping system the first of the year to show at a glance just what bond issues are outstanding.

Lima now is bonded about to the limit for sewer work and Churchill is anxious to find out just how much leeway there will be for the 1924 bonding purposes.

Churchill's last financial statement to bond buyers, made Aug. 21, showed $6,892,258.23 of bonded indebtedness of which $23,507 is floating debt. Since then the bonded debt has increased $10,000 and the floating debt about $25,000 he said Monday.

PORTSMOUTH. — Sam Miles Johnson, 70, prominent lawyer and insurance broker, was found dead at his home here, death being due to heart trouble.

35 DELINQUENTS TO BE LISTED

Candidates Fail to File Cost of Last Campaign

Names of approximately 35 candidates in the recent county and city elections are to be certified to Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, unless they file a list of their campaign expenses during the coming week, A. J. Morris, clerk of the board of elections, declared Monday.

Morris said that failure of the candidates to file is holding up completion of the election board's work for the year.

Expense list of the Lima Parents' association, the organization which backed winners for board of education in the campaign was filed by John F. Jervis.

The account shows that the expenditures were greatly in excess of the receipts. Donation paid toward campaign expenses amounted to $129.60 and while the expenses totaled $216.05.

Jervis hopes to make up the deficit during the week, he declared.

Fred Calvert, runner up in the school board race, filed an account showing no receipts and no expenditures.

RED CROSS TEAMS CANVASS CITY

Officials Hope to Complete Work Wednesday

In an effort to bring the annual roll call of Allen-co Chapter, American Red Cross, to a successful conclusion Wednesday several men's and women's teams early Monday began a canvass of the residential districts of Lima for memberships.

M. P. Colt, chairman of the roll call committee, asks that persons desiring to become members of the American Red Cross may send in their subscription of one dollar or more to headquarters at the Elks' club. Subscriptions mailed in will be recorded so that team solicitors will not call at the home.

Complete reports from many of the business houses and industrial plants of Lima will be received during the early part of this week. Red Cross workers declare the aid given by business establishments is splendid. So far no large donations have been received at roll call headquarters.

Several churches in Lima announced the annual roll call from the pulpits Sunday.

DEATH SUMMONS TEACHER

Ella Richards Was Instructor at Central 23 Years

Ella Richards, 49, for 23 years a teacher of mathematics at Central High school, died Sunday at 8:30 p. m. at St. Rita's hospital, following an operation she sustained a week ago. She resided at 753 1/2 W. North.

Miss Richards was born in Delaware, Ohio, and came to Lima shortly after her graduation from Ohio Wesleyan university to teach in the high school. She was always so devoted to the welfare of her pupils and fully recognized that in the subject of mathematics she carried one of the more difficult subjects. In her 23 years as teacher in Central High school, she has taught more than 2500 students.

Supt. J. E. Collins dismissed the high school at 11 a. m. Monday that follow teachers and students might pay their respects before the body was sent to Delaware at 1 p. m. Several hundred students and many teachers viewed the body at the Eckert undertaking parlors. Funeral services will be held Wednesday in Delaware.

Miss Richards is survived by her mother, three sisters and one brother in Delaware. Mrs. T. R. Terwilliger, of W. Market-st., is a cousin.

NEGLECT CHARGES MADE IN ACTION FOR DIVORCE

Action for divorce based on ground of neglect was filed in common pleas court Monday by Carrie E. Sturgis, naming LaVerne Sturgis, railroad man, defendant.

Mrs. Sturgis recites in her petition that she was married to the defendant in 1910 at Dayton. Despite the fact that her male earns wages of not less than $350 a month, she asserts that he has failed to support her in a proper manner.

Taking part in the comedy will be George Heckman, Lucile Aubrey, Harold Fambert, Evangelina Shelby, Albert Westrick and Glenn Wehlinger. The girls' chorus will provide music. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

MULLETT DITCH PROJECT BRINGS FORTH PROTESTS

OTTAWA. — Hearing on the A. J. Mullett ditch improvement, set for Saturday, drew a contingent of taxpayers to the county commissioners' office to enter a protest.

The improvement will affect residents of Palmer and Monroe-tps. It will be twenty miles in length. The ditch formerly was an old creek, which has since become a driftwood and mud. Commissioners declare the cost of the improvement would not be large. It was petitioned for by Mullett and other farmers.

Hearings are continued to another day, following an all-day session.

CHILDREN'S RED CROSS APPEAL BRINGS RESULTS

OTTAWA. — An urgent appeal made to Putnam-co citizens in behalf of enrollment in the Red Cross in the annual campaign for memberships has been met with hearty response, according to word Saturday from Putnam-co headquarters.

Children of the public schools in every part of the county carried the message of the Red Cross and the meaning of enrollment week to every adult citizen.

FIRST 1924 AUTO TAGS ON DISPLAY IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA. — The first auto tags for 1924 have arrived in Ottawa and are being displayed in the insurance office of Guy Kersh.

The numbers are white in a field of midnight blue.

Tags may be obtained at any place in Ottawa where an insurance office. Just one other man in Putnam-co will sell the tags. He is Chas. Varner, of Continental.

Auto drivers must purchase tags at one of the other of these places, or go outside of the county.

DIVORCE PETITION SAYS HUSBAND WAS GAMBLER

OTTAWA. — George Snell, telegraph operator in Butler-co, was an habitual gambler, according to allegations made Saturday in a suit for divorce, filed in Putnam-co court of common pleas by Mrs. Ruth Snell, of Ottawa.

Mrs. Snell charges her husband lost most of his earnings in games of chance and failed to support her and their two children, Robert, 8, and Marjorie, 4.

She charges she was treated harshly and disrespectfully and that later she left him when he refused to change his mode of life.

She asks custody, care, education and control of the children. Her weekly salary is $150 a month and she is seeking reasonable alimony.

They were married in Ottawa on Jan. 19, 1915.

TUBERCULIN TESTS MEAN HIGHER PRICES, IS CLAIM

OTTAWA. — A county-wide cleanup of tuberculosis among cattle is urged by Dr. C. S. Elliott, federal inspector of Dairy Herds for Tuberculosis, who the past week visited Putnam-co.

Acting in conjunction with Dr. Elliott, the farm bureau office is sending out literature left by him to all persons, upon application.

"If Putnam-co has a general test made for tuberculosis in cattle, with a cleanup following, prices will be where they will pay 10 cents per hundred more for hogs shipped from Putnam-co, than for those shipped from counties not having such a test," declared Dr. Elliott.

JUDGMENT CONFESSED ON OVERDUE NOTES

OTTAWA. — Confession of judgment in the three different cases on notes, long since due, has been made in common pleas court in cognovit actions.

Walter E. Williams, of Vaughnsville, has confessed judgment in favor of A. H. Good, administrator of the estate of D. R. Kisser, deceased, in the sum of $1558.44.

R. Joseph Meyer has confessed judgment for $1417.70 to H. C. Hummon, of Leipsic, and Andrew M. and Jessie Ross, of Blanchard-tp, have confessed judgment in favor of the Bank of Leipsic for $514.80.

DAIRY FEEDING SCHOOLS CONDUCTED IN PUTNAM-CO.

OTTAWA. — Ivan McKellip, dairy feeding specialist from Ohio State university, Columbus, conducted dairy feeding schools in Putnam-co last week.

The school was held in Columbus Grove Thursday afternoon in the town hall and at night in the Greensburg-tp, house.

The session Friday afternoon was held in the strange hall in Leipsic and in the evening in the town hall in Dupont.

Farmers in attendance brought a list of the kind and amount of food used for cows, together with a statement of milk produced for a given number of days.

McKellip aimed to establish a well-balanced ration for the cattle, with the object to produce more milk from the same amount of food, or less, when properly balanced.

SENTINEL DISSOLUTION TESTIMONY RESUMED

OTTAWA. — Testimony in the dissolution case of the Sentinel Publishing Co. was resumed Monday before George Fritz, referee.

Suit to dissolve the company on the grounds that under the present management it is not a paying proposition, was begun last spring by A. P. Sandies and John T. Mandlow, stockholders.

The decision is expected to be given at the close of the hearing Monday by Referee Fritz.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

NEXT WAR ONE OF EXTERMINATION

So Says Bishop DuMoulin in His Plea Here for Peace

"If we are going to have another war we had better be thinking of it before it comes for there won't be any of us left after, for the next conflict will be a war of extermination," Rt. Rev. Frank DuMoulin, bishop, coadjutor of the Protestant Episcopal church, diocese of Ohio, declared in his sermon on "World Peace" at Christ church, Episcopal, Sunday morning.

"Today we are overwhelmed with world conditions and the great need is brotherhood. Can we displace greed, enmity, hatred, jealousy and sin with fraternalism, love, unselfishness?" Bishop DuMoulin asked.

Bishop DuMoulin recently returned from a two years' tour of 20 nations. During his tour he investigated conditions both economical and political to find if the peoples on earth really desire lasting peace.

"In all of the 20 nations I visited, including countries in South America, I failed to find an official of any government or any citizen who wanted war. All want peace, yet there was manifested a belief of fear and distrust," the bishop declared.

Bishop DuMoulin, in his plea for world brotherhood, presented a word picture of the life of John who, he said, 1,900 years ago, overcame the thought of unselfishness, discord and strife and won the battle for principles of brotherhood. Bishop DuMoulin said that John, thru his action with Christ, learned the lesson of love and service only thru long suffering, vision, struggles and finally self-sacrifice or sacrament.

"Preventative is the great practice today, especially in medicine, dentistry and other sciences, therefore it must be the same with war. We must work now to prevent war in the hope that world peace will become an actual accomplishment," Bishop DuMoulin said.

During the morning service Bishop DuMoulin administered the rite of confirmation to a class of candidates. In a short talk to the class Bishop DuMoulin admonished those who have been confirmed to hold to the Christian faith and set about to do that work which God created them to do, the bishop declaring that each human being is created to do some particular work here on earth. Bishop DuMoulin likened some Christians to the grain of wheat that was sown in the hand of King Tut's mummy. He said the grain had remained in the tomb for 3,000 years without having accomplished a thing. The seed was planted and it bore crops, and so it is with some Christians who fail to carry out that work they are intended for them to do until they are awakened, Bishop DuMoulin said.

PACIFIC COAST GOTHAM BEGINS TO TAKE ON AIRS

LOS ANGELES — Los Angeles is fast rivaling New York and Chicago in the matter of assuming a superior metropolitan attitude toward other parts of the world.

Just as the New Yorker speaks condescendingly of Hoboken, "Jokey" City and "Up-State," and only longs for a sight of them when he is in some far distant part of the country, so Los Angeles citizens are becoming very superior toward the outlying territory.

The actual city of Los Angeles is now referred to by the citizens as "the metropolitan area." The rest of the 370 square miles in the incorporated city, which is frequently referred to as the "rural area" because the alfalfa is very luxurious, is referred to as "the suburb" or the "outlying city districts." In San Diego a similar territory is more frankly termed "the back country."

All of the twenty or more cities within 50 or 60 miles radius of Los Angeles and ranging in population from 10,000 to 100,000, are generally referred to as "country towns."

The people from out of town who flock into Los Angeles so liberally to see the sights of the big city are being referred to as "the peasantry."

RAIL HEARING HALTED BY D. T. & I. ABSENCE

WASHINGTON.—For the third time, the interstate commerce commission's hearings on railroad compensation, held open so that facts in regard to Henry Ford's Detroit, Toledo and Ironton road might be put into the record, was adjourned today without a representative of the corporation having been heard.

Several days ago a subpoena was issued for E. G. Leibold, formerly Ford's private secretary and now vice-president of the road, but so far attempts to serve the summons have failed.

Some time ago a letter from its officials declaring merely that the Ford road desired to be let alone and work out its own policies in its own way, was received and put into the docket of the commission's investigation.

In adjourning today notice was given that another session would be held tomorrow morning at which the Ironton would be heard if the compulsory subpoena had been served in the meantime.

MANY HURT IN WRECK

CANTON — Several persons were injured this morning when a Canton-Massillon interurban car on the Northern Ohio Traction Company's system was wrecked west of this city. The car split a switch and left the track turning over on its side. Miss Alice Rolier, Canton, was taken to a hospital but was not seriously hurt. A number of other passengers received minor injuries.

ORGANIZATION OF OWNERS ASKED

Plan Seeks to Band Property Holders for Revaluation

HELP APPRAISERS, IS AIM

Representatives Would Meet Precinct Assessors

With the time drawing near when assessors will begin work on the revaluation of Lima property, an elaborate plan whereby organized property owners can cooperate with the appraisers with a view to having all property appraised on a more equitable basis has been devised by Frank E. Harman.

The plan, if carried out, would mean a vast saving of time and money, and also result in an efficient and equitable revaluation of property in Lima. Harman believes Harman for the first time made his plan known Saturday.

He recommends that the property owners in each precinct meet and select three persons who are familiar with property values in that precinct.

Between the time of their appointment and the time when the appraiser would reach the precinct for the purpose of listing properties, the committee of three could canvass the precinct and become thoroughly acquainted with conditions such as growth, improvements, etc., all which would have a bearing on values.

Harman says that if every precinct would be so organized, it would mean an organization of over 200 property holders. Harman suggests a meeting of precinct representatives be held with the assessors, with the view of offering cooperation. Blue prints of properties in each precinct could be prepared, and each property marked and approved as to value before the visit of the assessor.

Many disputes regarding values would be eliminated to a large degree if such a plan was adopted, Harman said Saturday.

Harman said that while he has not taken any step toward forming such an organization, he said he intended to develop his plan and find out how public opinion stood on the matter.

PASTOR EXPLAINS IDEA CHRIST HAD OF HIMSELF, HOW JEWS RECEIVED HIM

In the fourth of his Sunday evening sermons on the life of Christ Rev. Dr. Samuel Huecker at Market-st Presbyterian church Sunday evening answered the question of what idea Christ had of himself believed himself the Messiah for which the Jews had been waiting since the days of the prophets.

"Altho preaching and living humility at all times, Christ at some times gave expressions to claims that in any other person of that time would have been presumptuous," said the minister. "While He firmly believed Himself to be the Son of God, He taught His disciples to regard Him and preach Him as the son of man because he wanted the people to know and understand that while He was the Son of God, He was God's messenger to humanity and thus we see in Him blended both the human and the divine."

Dr. Huecker said that in His youth the Christ evidently had beliefs that he was destined for great things but that it was not until He was baptized by John the Baptist in the river Jordan that he was fully conscious of being the Messiah for which the Jews long had been looking. "Jesus went into the Jordan a carpenter and came out the Messiah," said Dr. Huecker.

The Jews of that time were looking for a Messiah who would be to them a Jewish Caesar and conquer all the enemies of the Jewish people. They were not, therefore, prepared to accept Christ as their Messiah because He did not set up for them a great temporal kingdom.

JOSEPH MAUCH, 58, DIES OF PARALYTIC STROKES

Joseph Mauch, 58, of 420 W. Halter-st, died early Sunday morning at his home following a stroke of paralysis he suffered while returning home from work Saturday noon. He never regained consciousness.

Mauch was born in Upper Sandusky, but had resided in Lima for the last 26 years. He was employed as foreman at the Odia cigar factory.

Surviving are the widow; four daughters, Mrs. W. G. Kepper, Mrs. Fred Rosbom, Viola and Ruth Mauch, at home, and four sons, Edward, John, Walter and Wilbur Mauch, all of Lima. Two brothers and one sister also survive.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the residence Rev. Arthur Peffly, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment in Woodlawn.

LIMA CHURCHMEN EXPECT TO ATTEND CLEVELAND MEETING

Number of members of Christ church, Episcopal, expect to attend the rally of northern Ohio delegates of the Episcopal church, diocese of Ohio, at the Hotel Winton, Cleveland, Monday night at which time plans will be laid for the campaign to raise a national fund for the church.

William G. Mather, chairman of the Ohio committee in the campaign, will preside. Speakers will be Judge Joseph Buffington of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and John Stewart Bryan, of Richmond.

Ohio's quota is listed at $210,000. Rev. Victor A. Smith, rector of Christ church, Lima, said the quota for Lima is $2,300. Every member canvass is being arranged by the parish and will be held during the week of December 2 to 9. Purpose of the campaign is to enable the church to carry out her nation-wide program.

12 ARE KILLED BY POISON LIQUOR

Drinking Sends Scores to Hospitals at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — (Associated Press) — Poison liquor caused five deaths here yesterday and sent scores of other drinkers to hospitals seriously ill. Three of those who died were picked up unconscious on the streets in the Tenderloin section and the other two were found in their homes, one dead and the other unconscious.

Cider saloons, cigar stores and "other blind tigers" supplied most of the liquor, police said. Some of those still in hospitals, however, said they had purchased the liquor from bootleggers who told them it had come from the fleet lying off the Jersey coast. Several declared they had become unconscious after taking only one or two drinks.

Prohibition authorities say most of the liquor being sold by bootleggers here is moonshine and that much of it is manufactured by the bootleggers themselves. Denatured alcohol, they say, frequently has found its way into the concoctions by mistake.

More than 400 arrests for drunkenness were made over the week-end of this number, 100 or more required hospital attention.

SEVEN DEAD — (Associated Press) — Seven deaths in as many days caused by poison liquor put in the market to meet the pre-holiday demand, today brought united action from city, county and federal authorities.

The seasonal demand, police say, has resulted in bootleggers working overtime shifts to prepare liquor with a "kick" from medicated alcohol, hastily distilled mash with a high percentage of fusel oil and synthetic combinations.

LINKED WITH HOLDUP GANG

Must Answer Charge of Robbery and Killing

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Barlow Morris Diamond, a Brooklyn salesman, who was arrested last night in the Hotel Statler at Cleveland as one of three holdup men who shot to death two employees of the West End Bank on November 14, and escaped with $48,000 in cash, arrives today under heavy guard to face witnesses who police say have identified his picture as that of one of the holdup men.

In the murder and robbery, William S. Barlow, a retired police sergeant, and William H. McLaughlin, a war veteran employed by the bank, were shot in cold blood without the slightest warning. Their two assailants escaped in an automobile driven by a confederate. It was thru this car that Diamond's arrest was brought about, after detectives had trailed him thru Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Toledo and Cleveland.

LAVISH ENTERTAINER — In the prisoner's pockets at the time of his arrest were found a loaded revolver and $2,200 mostly in $20 bills, the denomination of a large part of the money stolen. He had a great deal more than this when he left New York, detectives said, but spent lavishly on his tour. In Philadelphia, the police said, he stopped at the Hotel Lorraine under the name of Schwartz, giving lavish entertainment to a chorus girl and boasting that he was a "stickup man."

The prisoner once served a term of six months in Connecticut for grand larceny, police said. His fingerprints, they added, corresponded with marks left in blood on the door handles of the car. Five witnesses to the crime identified his rogue's gallery picture at police headquarters as that of one of the holdup men.

ARREST IN CLEVELAND — CLEVELAND — (United Press) — Lavish spending on a Philadelphia chorus girl was said by local police today to have been the direct clue which led to the arrest in a local hotel last night of Barlow M. Diamond, Brooklyn, wanted for a $43,000 payroll robbery there on November 14, in which two bank messengers were killed.

Police declared he squandered money on the girl and boasted to her that he was a "stickup" man and had just made a "big haul" there.

Within two hours after the arrival of the New York detectives, Diamond was under arrest and in two more hours, was on his way to Buffalo. The party is expected to reach New York tonight.

Detectives Stanley Martin and Stephen Donohue of New York obtained a Fullman section for themselves and the prisoner and he was taken to the depot handcuffed to the officers. A car containing four Cleveland police sergeants followed close behind. Officers denied that the prisoner was being kidnaped, altho they did not know whether Diamond had waived extradition.

HEARING ON WHEAT TARIFF IS OPENED

WASHINGTON—Wheat growers, millers and others whose interests are involved were here today for the opening of the tariff commission's first public hearing in connection with its inquiry into the wheat tariff. Their views were sought by the commission as supplemental to the cost data and other information to be obtained by its field experts as a basis for recommendations to be made to President Coolidge on the appeal of the wheat council of the United States for an increase of fifty per cent in the present wheat duty of thirty cents a bushel.

The experts will meet at St. Paul December 3, to obtain data on production and manufacturing costs. The actual field work will be undertaken immediately on the formulation of definite plans there.

Means of obtaining production and marketing costs on Canadian wheat which forms the chief competition in the domestic market also is expected to be considered at the St. Paul conference.

B. & O. SHOPS ARE SHUT DOWN

Work is Halted for One Week; Will Reopen Dec. 3

Closing of the B. & O. shops for a period of one week was announced Monday. Work halted Sunday and will not be resumed until Dec. 3, it was stated at the plant.

Orders for the shutdown, which affects the heavy repair division, were received from Baltimore and are understood to have been prompted by two things: first, a desire to balance appropriations and second; belief that the men would like to have the Thanksgiving holiday off.

While no official figure was available at the shops Monday, it is understood that approximately 400 men will be affected by the action of the railroad.

PACT TO GOVERN COAL URGED

Government Control Plan Proposed by Gov. Pinchot

WOULD POOL STATE POWER

Address Conference of Executives at Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Pa., (Associated Press) — Government control of the anthracite coal industry by state and federal action and by a compact between the anthracite consuming states establishing a commission to enforce regulations to be agreed upon by the governors, was proposed by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania in an address prepared for delivery here today at a conference of representatives of the chief executives of the anthracite consuming states. Such a commission, as he proposed, the governor said, "pooling the police power of the states concerned, could, in cooperation with federal authority over interstate commerce, completely regulate the whole industry from the mine to the consumer's bin."

Today's conference was called by Governor Pinchot to consider a specific program of legislation designed to keep down coal prices.

PROGRAM OUTLINED

In his address he set forth three suggestions for such a program:

That the state executives use such powers as they now have to assure clean coal by publicly, as to fraudulent practices, that they ascertain and make public extortions being practiced and by whom; that they disseminate information as to fuel economy and substitutes, and that they act jointly in appealing to the interstate commerce commission to consider of anthracite freight rates.

That the federal government establish and enforce in interstate commerce standards for clean coal for sizes. That it license all those engaged in the interstate anthracite trade, that it authorize the interstate commerce commission to draw care to profiteers and that it investigate and publish the facts.

That the anthracite-using states under a provision of the federal constitution agree upon the form of regulation "that will best work to the advantage of their people" and negotiate a treaty or compact to establish a joint commission to enforce it.

Governors of thirty states had been requested to attend and acceptance received assured the presence of delegates representing practically half of them for the opening of the conference at 2:30 this afternoon.

medicine, Plant Juice. Now, Miss Roddy says she gets her day's work done almost before she knows it and is gaining weight and enjoying the best of health.

"I was troubled with my stomach and it seemed like I could not find anything that would relieve me," said Roddy recently while talking with The Plant Juice Man. "I could not digest the lightest kind of food and instead, food would ferment, cause qualms of gas, a heavy feeling and pains in my stomach. I cannot remember a time when I have not had to take cathartics because of constipation, with which I have suffered since childhood, and also my liver and kidneys were inactive and I had bilious attacks and dizzy spells and my complexion had become just terrible with big, dark rings beneath my eyes. I was so nervous the least thing excited me and I slept poorly and had lost weight. I was very nervous—in fact, was on the verge of giving up my work because at times I could hardly get it done."

"Some friends of mine were taking Plant Juice with splendid results and so, I decided to try it and was confident that I am now enjoying the best of health. I have a good appetite, enjoy my meals and am not constipated. I do not suffer from vomiting or pains; liver and kidneys are in good condition and my nervous system has been toned up and strengthened so that I sleep fine. I have new energy and ambition and get through my day's work almost before I know it. And my complexion has cleared up so fine that all my friends are remarking about it. I am gaining weight and believe I can actually see new blood running thru my system and I am surely glad to endorse Plant Juice."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at a drug store, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets; at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.—Ad.

COOPERATIVE SCHEME HITS GERMAN FOOD PROFITEERS

FRANKFORT - ON - THE ODER. —The profiteering middlemen dealing in foodstuffs have been dealt a hard blow by the cooperative efforts of a committee representing city and labor officials and a committee of the Landbund, or farmers' organization. Under the new scheme certain quantities of potatoes and meats are delivered weekly at fixed prices and distributed through municipal authorities.

The result has been that the city workers and farmers have eliminated the middlemen; retail prices of potatoes and meat to consumers have been reduced nearly 50 per cent and the farmers are receiving better prices than before. Another advantage is that the supply of potatoes and meat is made certain.

CAMPAIGN CHIEFS THREATENED

People Roused to Anger in British Political Contests.

LONDON — (Associated Press) —Nominations for candidates for the 615 seats in the house of commons were being made today preparatory to the election on December 6. It was estimated beforehand that a record number would be named with the Conservatives in the majority, the Liberals a good second and the Laborites not far behind.

Three cornered contests which every individual candidate wishes to avoid, were expected to be rather numerous. Forecasts placed the number at more than 230 although it was supposed there might be several withdrawals at the last moment.

FEELING RUNS HIGH
The electioneering campaign in the press and on the platform continues bitter and in some constituencies the people are showing an angry spirit. The Conservatives say that several of their speakers have received notices threatening them with violence if they appear on the platforms in East London. Lord Younger, who as Sir George

Younger, is accredited with having forced the resignation of the Lloyd George government, is to have command of the Conservative campaign. He has hurried to London from his country seat to take the place of other party chiefs who will be forced to leave headquarters and fight for their respective seats in the constituencies.

CAUGHT IN OWN TRAP

THERE is an ancient saying, trite and true, that "he who laughs last, laughs best." In a game of "taxation tag" being played by the General Assembly and Governor Donahey, the Legislature is "it."

The Republican controlled legislative body thought it was playing a good joke on the governor when it merely recessed, instead of adjourning sine die, and even exercised the precaution to designate a committee clothed with authority to reconvene the state wrecking crew at any time desired, before Dec. 31, 1924.

Now they wish they hadn't. They're caught in a trap of their own making. Here's the why: Since the electorate arose in its wrath and smote with a mighty smash the Taft taxation law approved by the Republican state central committee, and along with it the Albaugh law, there has been grief aplenty in the camp of the Republicans in the Legislature and the party leaders generally, but there's something more than that now to rise up and haunt them.

They did the legislative job thoroughly. In fixing it so the governor could not call the body into session again if he so desired, they forgot to fix it so he could not sidestep if they desired him to issue a call. Altho Attorney General Crabbe rules that the Legislature is not in session, it cannot be recalled by the governor. That's why they're sore at themselves. There's a demand for taxation legislation. The Republicans would like to have the governor recall the Legislature. He sees no need of it and refuses to act. They're afraid to. They'd like to shift the responsibility, but can't do it.

All this recalls that "the best laid plans of mice and men," etc.

GUN TOTERS

DO you own a revolver? It's amazing how many Americans do. For instance, gun toting or owning is severely restricted in New York City. And yet New York has been issuing legal permits to 30,000 people a year, to possess or carry pistols.

Pistol permits, of course, are not issued to known crooks. But legally owned pistols are frequently stolen by housebreakers. That's how the underworld gets part of its firearms.

Mail order purchase is the commoner method by which crooks arm themselves. This method requires no police registration. A criminal can not only get a pistol easily and stealthily, he can get as many as he wants and whenever he desires—by mail order.

Authorities in Buffalo the other day revoked all pistol licenses in town and the surrounding county. Fifteen thousand permits to carry firearms are affected by the Buffalo action, which resulted from discovery that a murderer wanted by police was a holder of a county pistol permit.

New York City is attacking the pistol menace in another way. Applicants for gun toting permits are being finger-printed, the prints then checked up to make sure the applicants haven't a criminal record.

As long as crooks are able to get firearms, there'll be shooting. Even the law-abiding citizen is apt to have moments of rage or drunkenness when possession of a pistol is dangerous.

But local restrictions cannot be other than puny until the national government prohibits, in interstate commerce, the sale and shipment of revolvers except for officers of the law. Legislation to that end is before Congress.

"MEDICAL" LIQUOR

ALAS, weak heart seems to be the National Ailment. In 27 states, doctors write over 11 million whisky prescriptions a year. Nearly a third of them were in one state, New York.

There are roughly 150,000 physicians in our country. Only one in every three exercises his privilege of prescribing liquor.

When the investigators in Washington have some loose time they might turn their attention to the frightfully bad grades of "whisky" sold on prescription in some of the drug stores. Grain alcohol, colored with burnt sugar and caramel, fools some but not all.

PRESERVING PERSONALITIES

THE bird is dead but sings on. Caruso is gone, but his phonograph records are paying nearly $300,000 a year in royalties to his heirs.

The talking machine and the movie cheat the grave by saving personality from extinction. Lincoln would have seemed more real and less mythological if these two inventions could have been used when he was making his Gettysburg address.

THE HEALING ULCER

An ulcer is any open sore or raw place which is left on the skin or the lining mucous membrane after the loss of substance from the surface. It has nothing to do with cancer or tumor, the cancer sometimes develops in the site of an old ulcer, such as an unhealed varicose ulcer on the leg or a gastric ulcer (in the stomach).

Persons with varicose veins in the legs are more likely to have ulcers because the skin and underlying tissues get poor nourishment when the veins are enlarged and dilated, hence the natural processes of repair are incapable of taking care of slight injuries. When inflammation occurs in the wall of a varicose vein (phlebitis) and clotting of the blood occurs within the inflamed vein (thrombosis) a tender, hardened or indurated bunch forms in or under the skin; this hardened place may break down at the center, suppurate and finally produce an ulcer.

The first lesson the victim of an ulcer, of whatever cause or nature, must learn, the lesson which many sufferers are slow to learn, is that no known medicine, chemical or substance or ointment or salve or lotion or concoction or remedy or liniment or stuff will heal an ulcer.

Let I give a false impression of hopelessness, let me hasten to add that every varicose ulcer and every other kind of ulcer (barring ulcers in which cancer has developed) may be persuaded to heal by nature's own process if proper medical or surgical treatment is available; it is available wherever good physicians are to be had. The victim of chronic varicose ulcer of months' or years' duration suffers by reason of successful evasion of just ordinary intelligent medical treatment, in the great majority of cases. To have a varicose ulcer is a misfortune which may come to anybody with varicose veins; to keep such an ulcer is the prerogative of those who believe it

JUST FOLKS

—BY EDGAR A. GUNST—

AGE AND YOUTH
Youth and age in conflict are, And will be to the end of time, Age has no wish to journey far, Age has no strength or will to climb, Age to the old will fondly cling, But youth demands, the power thing.

Against the new old age is set, New tricks are hard for him to do; Yet gruff old age should not forget The time was when his dream was new. When strength was his, then was he bold And scorned the preachings of the old.

What tho you cannot run with youth, What tho you cannot higher climb? You need not blind your eyes to truth. Muscles, of course, must bow to Time, But still the mind can keep abreast With what is new and what is best.

Youth does not scorn your lack of strength, It merely scorns your narrow view. Your vain attempt to hold at length All that it undertakes to do. The blustering waves young hearts will stem, It ays will but play fair with time.

THIS LITTLE WORLD

—WASHINGTON—

By HARRY B. HUNT
WASHINGTON. — (Special.) — When John Joseph Kindred of Astoria, N. Y., announced his candidacy for Congress, his friends were surprised.
John J. had never taken active part in politics. He had been submerged in an active professional career.
"Who is this man Kindred, anyway?" one voter in his district inquired of one of Kindred's friends.
"Why, he's a neurologist," Kindred's friend answered.

"A neurologist?"
"What's that?"
"Well, he's a specialist on mental diseases—nervous and insane people. You know—"
"Oh! You mean he's a 'bug doctor'?"
"Well, yes; I suppose you might call him that."
"Now I can see some sense to it! Congress would be a fine place to send a bug doctor. They sure could use a few down there. I'm for him."

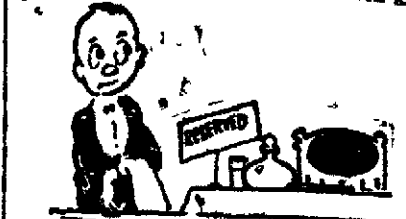

Coincident with the coming of congressmen, hunters report a record-breaking migration to these parts of wild ducks and geese.
Coming up the Potomac from Norfolk the other day, the river from Quantico to Mt. Vernon was literally alive with waterfowl. Flocks of thousands upon thousands blackened the sky and the water.
For the present, Washington should adopt "Good Hunting" for its civic slogan. With Congress convening, a presidential campaign in the offing and the river full of ducks the hunter is given wide leeway his choice of game.

The tribulations of the unattached male, driven from pillar to post in his quest for comforts supposed to be provided only within the confines of home, is largely fictitious.

In proof whereof, there is the case of George G. Hill, veteran Washington correspondent for the London Times.

For 23 years Hill has eaten evening dinner in the same restaurant, at the same table, served by the same waiter, at the same hour. No home could serve more faithfully the palate of the head of the house. The waiter knows Hill's likes and dislikes, and from the dishes available each evening elects a bit of fare for the guest without thought or worry on his part.

Delight in this method of combating film on teeth

Whiter teeth have come to millions in the past few years. You see them everywhere. The dingy film which used to coat them is now combated daily.
Those whiter teeth mean cleaner, safer teeth. You will want them when you know. Learn how to get them by this simple test.

The cause is film

Film is the cause of cloudy teeth—that viscous film you feel. Under old methods, much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats, which once were more common than now.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

All of these troubles became alarmingly common under old methods of teeth cleaning.

Then dental science found two film combatants. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation.

Protect the Enamel! Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Hence use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

HEAVY NEWS TODAY

Hubert Stane, discharged convict, saves the life of Helen Yarely as her canoe travels toward a dangerous waterfall. Helen is the niece of a governor of the Hudson Bay Company. The governor and Helen are visiting at a northern post of the company.

Gerald Ainsley, one time friend of Stane, is in love with Helen. While waiting the trail to return Helen to her uncle's camp, Stane is injured in a fall. Helen decides to stay and care for him. Gerald goes in search of the missing girl. He meets a half-breed who says he has seen Helen and Stane.

Now go on with the story. Her face flushed as she recognized it, and a little look of resentment came in her eyes. Then she gave a hard little laugh at herself, and going outside once more, presently returned with water and with a couple of handkerchiefs taken from the sick man's pack.

She poured a few drops between his lips, and then after laying his face, she laid one of the wet handkerchiefs on his brow, renewing it from time to time, in order to cool his head. After a while the bubble ceased, the restlessness passed away, and his eyes closed in natural slumber. Seated on the ground, she still watched him, her face the index of troublesome thoughts, but after a little time she began to nod, her chin dropped to her chest, and she fell into a profound sleep.

"Miss Yarely! Miss Yarely!" Stane's voice awakened her two hours and a half later. She looked round in some bewilderment, and as her eyes saw his tired, white face, she started up.

She stretched a hand and took his. The palm was moist. "Ah," she said. "You feel weak no doubt, but the fever has left you. I will go and attend to the fire and prepare breakfast."

CHAPTER X

A Canoe Comes and Goes. Lying on his back, his head pillowed on a rolled-up blanket, Hubert Stane became aware that the sound of the girl's movements had ceased. He wondered where she had gone to, for it seemed clear to him that she had left the camp, and as the time passed without any sound indicating her presence he began to feel alarmed. She was unused to the woods, it would be easy for her to lose herself and she did—

Before the thought was completed he heard the sound of a snapping stick, and knew that she had returned. He smiled with relief and waited for her appearance, but a few minutes passed before she entered the tent, bearing in her hand a tin cup. He looked at her inquiringly. "What have you there, Miss Yarely?"

"Balsam," was the reply, "for the cut upon your head. It is rather a bad one, and balsam is good for healing."

Deftly, with gentle fingers, the girl applied the balsam and then bound the wound with a strip of linen torn from a handkerchief. When the operation was finished she knelt beside him, she leaned back on her heels to survey the result.

"It looks quite professional," she said; "there isn't an Indian girl in the North could have done it better."

"There isn't one who could have done it half as well," he answered with a laugh.

"Are you sure?" she asked quickly. "How about Miskodeed?"

"Miskodeed?" he looked at her wonderingly.

"Yes, that beautiful Indian girl I saw you talking with up at Fort Malsun."

Stane laughed easily. "I know nothing whatever about her capacity as a healer," he said. "I have only spoken to her on two occasions, and neither of them did we discuss wounds or the healing of them."

"Then—" she began, and broke off in sudden confusion.

"Yes?" he asked inquiringly. "You were about to say—what?"

"I was about to say the girl was a comparative stranger to you!"

"Quite correct," he replied. "The girl proved herself a friend on the night I was kidnapped, for I saw her running thru the bushes towards my tent, and she cried out to warn me, just as I was struck."

Helen left the tent immediately, and as he lay there thinking over the conversation, Stane caught the sound of her voice. She was singing. He gave a little smile at her sudden gaiety.

Then he fell to thinking over the situation. They would be tied down where they were for some weeks, and if care was not exercised the problem of food would grow acute. His thought was interrupted by her appearance at the tent door. She held in her hand a fishing line that he had purchased at the Post and a packet of hooks.

"I go a-fishing," she cried gaily. "Wish me luck?"

"Good hunting!" he laughed back. "I hope there is fish in the stream."

"Here! Flocks! Crows! Schools! What you like, I saw them when I was hunting for the balsam."

"Can you shoot?" he inquired.

"I have killed driven grouse in Scotland," she answered with a smile. "But I suppose ammunition is valuable up here and I am going to try the poacher's way."

"The poacher's way?"

"Yes. Snarcs! There is a roll of copper wire in your pack. I've watched a warren at home making rabbit snares, and as there's no particular mystery about the art, and those birds are so unsophisticated, I shall be sure to get some. You see if I don't. But first I must build my house."

She turned away, and after perhaps half an hour he caught the sound of an ax at work in the wood a little way from the tent. The sound reached him intermittently for some time, and then ceased; and further sound of hewed steps, followed by that of poles tossed on the ground close to the tent. Then the girl looked in on him.

She was radiantly beautiful and strong, he thought to himself, a fit mate for any man who loved strength and beauty in a woman, rather than prettiness and softness, and his admiration found sudden vent in words.

"Miss Yarely, you are wonderful!"

The color in her face deepened suddenly, and there was a quick brightening in her gray eyes.

She turned and walked abruptly away. In her eyes as she went was a joyous light and her heart was gay. As she swung the ax upon her shoulder and moved towards the trees she broke into song.

For a long time he lay there listening to the sound of her movements, which told him when she was near and when further away, and presently he heard her fixing the lean-to of her improvised hut. She worked steadily, sometimes singing to herself, but she did not enter the tent again until noon, when she came in to inquire if he were comfortable and to say that a meal would be ready shortly.

"How does the hut feel?" he asked. "Oh, finely!" she cried with enthusiasm. "The framework is up; the I've used all the packropes over the job. I wish I had some nails. I'm sure I could drive them straight."

"I'm sure you could," he replied, laughing.

"After we have eaten I am going to look for birch-bark to make the covering, but there's one thing that is worrying me."

"What is that?" he asked.

"I am wondering how to fasten the bark together. If I had a stout twine and a packing needle it would be easy, but—"

"It is still easy," he interrupted. "You will have to get the roots of the white spruce, and sew with that, as a cobbler sews, using a knife for awl."

After the meal of fish and beans and coffee, she disappeared once more.

outside again. From the sounds he judged that she had found the bark and the other materials that she needed, and was busy sewing the covering for her tepee, and presently he heard her fixing it.

Half an hour later she stood in the tent doorway, flushed but triumphant.

"Finished," she cried, "and Sir Christopher Wren was never more proud than I am."

"I should like to see your castle," laughed Stane.

"You shall, sir," she cried gaily. "You shall. I will lift the canvas of the tent that you may feast your eyes on my handiwork."

A moment later she was busy rolling up the canvas at one side of the tent, and presently he found himself looking out on a very fair imitation of an Indian hunting tepee. He gave the work his ungrudging admiration.

She dropped the canvas of the tent, fastened it into its place, and then proceeded to arrange a bed of young spruce boughs for herself. That done to her satisfaction, she prepared the last meal of the day and then in the stillness of the bright Northland evening, she went off towards the lake she had discovered in the morning, with the intention of setting the snare that she had spoken of.

The stream which she had followed fell over a small cliff to the shore of the lake and as she reached the head of the fall she became aware of the two men beaching a canoe. Instantly she slipped behind a tree. The men had lifted the canoe clear of the water and were now standing upright with their faces to her not twenty-five yards from the place of her concealment. One of the men was Gerald Ainsley and the other was the Indian, Joe.

Helen crouched there for quite a long time, then a whimsical smile came on her face, and without a regret she crept quietly away thru the forest, leaving the two searchers unaware of her presence.

When she reached the encampment she locked into the hut and found that Stane was fast asleep. She smiled to herself, and instead of replenishing the failing fire, carefully extinguished it with earth, so that neither the glare nor the smoke of it might reach the two searchers and so lead to the discovery of the camp.

GERMANY IS STILL WITHOUT CABINET

Dr. Albert Latest to Undertake the Organization

OPPOSED BY NATIONALISTS

Teuton Rolling Stock Seized by Belgian Government

BERLIN — Associated Press — The efforts of Dr. Heinrich F. Albert, former minister of the treasury, to form a new German cabinet had borne no visible fruit up to this afternoon. It was believed that if a ministry should take office under Dr. Albert's chancellorship it would do no more than mark the transition stage to a dissolution of the national parliament.

President Ebert's invitation to Dr. Albert to form a new cabinet caused considerable resentment in Nationalist quarters, because the president did not invite the Nationalists to submit a candidate for the chancellorship, for which post they had the Nationalist leader, Dr. Dietrich in view.

The invitation to Dr. Albert Sunday came after the members of the deposed Stresemann ministry and the various parliamentary leaders had informed the president that the present situation in the reichstag would prevent the installation of a coalition which would create a working majority in the legislative body. The president recalled Dr. Albert and prevailed upon him to reconsider the declaration to assume the chancellorship which he had given after a consultation with the executive last Friday.

It was hardly expected from the first, however, that Dr. Albert would be able to get together a ministry which would stand the test of a reichstag vote, the hope being that it would serve as a means of carrying on governmental affairs until dissolution of the reichstag, if that in the near future should come.

ROLLING STOCK SEIZED

BRUSSELS — Associated Press — The Belgian government today seized German rolling stock at Duisburg and Hamborn in view of Germany's failure to reply to the Belgian ultimatum demanding an indemnity of 1,250,000 francs for the assassination of Lieutenant Graf, near Duesseldorf, in March, 1922.

The time limit fixed by the Belgian ultimatum expired last night. Belgium had previously rejected an offer from Germany to submit the question to The Hague tribunal for arbitration and the Berlin government was notified that the amount claimed as indemnity will be confiscated in the occupied regions should Germany fail to pay.

Lieutenant Graf was shot while he was riding in a street car between Ruhrort and Walsum. His slayers, four members of the German green police, pleaded mistaken identity, declaring they believed the lieutenant to be a Belgian they were seeking in order to avenge a German police officers whom he had killed.

WORLD'S FASTEST SUB NEARING COMPLETION

LONDON — The submarine J. which is nearing completion at a Chatham dock yard for the British navy, will be the longest as well as the fastest submersible craft in the world, according to the Morning Post. She will have a surface speed of 33 knots enabling her to accompany battleships when steaming at full speed. She will carry six 8.5 inch guns, an armament said to be unique for an undersea craft. Her displacement will be 2,500 tons. The first British submarine built in 1901 displaced 120 tons and had a surface speed of nine knots.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while creosote goes on to the stomach and is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. —(Adv.)

RESTORE VITALITY OF GIRLHOOD AND IMPROVE PHYSICAL BEAUTY

Beauty is sometimes a gift, but more often an acquirement. And any specialist will tell you that you can have a clearer complexion, better figure, rosier cheeks, and more of the sparkle of girlish health in your eyes, if you gradually guard the condition of your digestive organs, liver, nerves and blood—if you correct in time the little defects in your appearance that are so often quickly and easily remedied.

LOOK YOUR BEST! Build yourself up! Take a good tonic, as your doctor would advise. The prescription of Dr. H. S. Thacher, the celebrated American Physician, is now being used in countless numbers of cases here to round out the beautiful lines of the figure with firm, solid flesh. This wholesome vegetable tonic (known as Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup) has proved to be excellent for clearing up the skin by improving digestion, waking up the sluggish liver and sending purer, healthier blood

Four Tons More White Paper Required to Print the Lima News Than for a Year Ago

It required four additional tons and 64 pounds of white paper to print and distribute The Lima News for the week ending Friday, November 23d, than was required for the comparative week in 1922.

Lima News circulation continues steadily to climb, and our newsprint contract for 1924 will be twenty per cent larger than in 1923.

The Lima News printed and distributed in excess of 17,000 copies every evening and Sunday morning (except Saturday, when circulation is confined to the city and small towns only). There was a NET GAIN of 8,077 copies for the week over the corresponding week of last year, when there was no other evening paper in the field.

Here is the Press-room report, exactly as it came to the publisher from Mr. Robert Geis, foreman of that department---

Sunday, November 18 - - - 17,125 Copies
Monday, November 19 - - - 17,040 Copies
Tuesday, November 20 - - - 17,109 Copies
Wednesday, November 21, - - 17,843 Copies
Thursday, November 22 - - 17,533 Copies
Friday, November 23 - - - 17,066 Copies

This Gain in Circulation over 1922 was also reflected in the number of pages printed, which increased 14 for the week.

WOLVERINES WILL TAKE HONORS IN BIG TEN FOOTBALL

Local Boxers Will Get Into Action At Fort Wayne And Wapakoneta This Week

PROS, AMS AND SICH

Speaking of the Big Three, Yale seems to be all three this year.

Prize fighters use buns to harden their hands. How politicians' heads got that way is unknown.

Apparently the Yale bulldog has quit running around with penmen and is back on a diet of red meat.

Yale beat in Memoriam by a nose. Showing what can be done with a nose that has been raised properly and given the advantage of a broad-minded, liberal, democratic training.

Wonders never come singly. Yale goes in for modern football and Bryan refuses to be interviewed.

Thanksgiving is to remind you of the many things you could be thankful for if you had them.

Paris refuses to recognize Miss McTigue. It may be hard for anybody to recognize him if he ever meets Gibbons.

Chorus girls demand more clothes. We've got to move one that wasn't hungry for something.

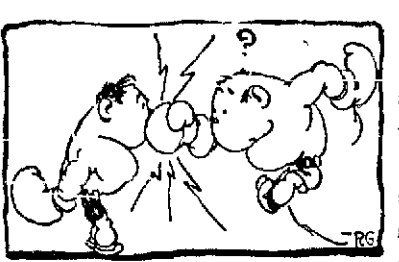

Who are the greatest ends in the country? Well, Low Dockstader and Neil O'Brien used to be.

Ice horse-racing may be a novelty to some folks, but not to betters who are used to freecounts.

Carpenter thinks he made a mistake in carrying the fight to Dempsey. It probably would have been better if he had carried it to some less ferocious person, at that.

The crown prince carried two tennis racquets when he went back home. Showing that he is ready for any emergency.

SNAPPY SPORTS

Yale's victory over Harvard, was the first in five years. It developed the first touchdown scored by Yale in Harvard stadium in sixteen years, and the game has won for the Yale team a place among the experts as a leader, if not the leader, of Eastern college football.

Sammy Mandell, Rockford feather will box Eddie Brady, of Brooklyn, before George Oswego's East Chicago club, December 3. They will go ten rounds. It is Mandell's first invasion of the middle west since his successful performances with the eastern contingent.

Carl Tremaine, will mix it with Pancho Villa at Madison Square next Monday. No title will be involved, as Tremaine has none to lose and the weights will be in excess of the flyweight limit. Villa giving several pounds away, and to a tough boy at that.

Wilber Good will pilot the Kansas City Blues again next season. Good succeeded in landing the pennant for Kansas City last season and there are many who have pinned their hopes on Good repeating the trick in 1924.

Garrity, catcher for Washington American League team, while playing with Rochester football team in a game Saturday, had two ribs broken and his collar bone cracked in the third quarter in a game against Dixon.

A boy billiardist named Chad Woodruff, is beating everybody around Dixon, Ill., at either pocket billiards or caroms. At the former game recently he ran 45 balls, he has beaten the best players in Rockford, Elmhurst, Rock Island and Moline.

Amateur Sports

Both claimants for the Junior championship of Lima football practiced on their respective fields Sunday afternoon in preparation for the deciding game of the series to be played at the Catalpa-av grid next Sunday afternoon. The East End Indians used the McKinley field while the Catalpa practiced on their home field. Much interest is being aroused over the championship game. Both teams are expected to "load up" for the deciding game, so it ought to be a real battle.

TWO SETS OF STAR BACKS FEATURE PLAY OF JONES GREAT ELEVEN

GUARD, A. O. NORRIS
(BY BILLY EVANS)

NEW HAVEN, Conn. —The Yale football team of 1923 is the greatest combination that has represented the Blue on the gridiron in the last 20 years.

Unless Harvard slows at least a

TACKLE, J. C. DILLER

Fifty per cent improvement over the form displayed in the game with Princeton, the Crimson is in for a sound drubbing.

Yale is a team of great reserve power. If the old sport axiom, that a team is no stronger than its substitutes, holds true, the Bulldog of 1923 is nothing short of wonder.

Never have I seen a team boast greater reserve strength. When a substitution was made in the line, the injection of fresh material immediately asserted itself by "pepping" up the plays. Century Miltstead is the best forward I have seen in action this year. The Princeton line was like so much paper to him. His constant breaking thru hurried every Tiger play and made the Princeton offense a negative quantity over half the time.

GREAT QUARTERBACK

While the Yale forwards are far above the ordinary, it is in the backfield that Yale shows to great advantage. Coach Tad Jones has two complete sets of backs, each player specializing in a certain department of play. In other words, Jones has a backfield star to suit every occasion.

CENTER, W. M. LOVEJOY

For a number of years Yale has backed a really great quarterback. In Lyle Richeson, the Bulldog has one of the best performers at the pivot position in the east. The best player general since the days of the present coach, Tad Jones, is the way the old grads expressed their approval of Richeson. Richeson is the man who has made a wonderful team out of a combination that probably would be much less effective tive without his master guiding hand.

STEVENS REAL STAR

In Pond and Neale, Yale has two backs who, while not nearly so sensational as Stevens and Neidlinger, play an equally important part in the working of the Bulldog backfield. They are the type back who tear off the short gains, three to six yards, when such a gain is about the most important thing in the world. Both are strong on interference and do much to help Stevens and Neidlinger enact the hero role. Captain Mallory at full is the ideal leader, perhaps the greatest defensive back in the country.

Of all the backs Stevens impressed me most. The big fellow is a whale of an open field runner, in many ways reminding you of Ted Coy. He is fast and runs high with a peculiar whirling motion that makes him a most difficult man to tackle. Unquestionably he is All-America material. There is little to choose between Grange of Illinois, Stevens of Yale and Wilson of Penn State.

TACKLE, E. F. BLAIR

Yale is entitled to high ranking in the east, sharing honors with Cornell. It is too bad these two great eastern elvies are not scheduled for an inter-sectional contest that would offer a chance to draw some pertinent conclusion.

Illini Shares Honors With Michigan

CHICAGO — Illinois and Michigan, each with an unmarred season's record are sharing honors for the 1923 Western Conference football championship. The Wolverines are on top of the Big Ten for the second consecutive time, having divided honors with Iowa in 1922.

Disputants advance claims to show that one or the other of the championship elvies has a better record, but in absence of any officially designated champion, the percentage record leaves the two elvies on a par.

Michigan earned her place by defeating Minnesota Saturday 16 to 0, while Illinois lifted herself to the championship pedestal with a 9 to 0 win from Ohio State, giving Illinois a string of five wins from conference teams, and Michigan a list of four straight conference decisions.

Chicago by overcoming the strong Wisconsin team, 13 to 6, in a hard fought final game, earned an undisputed claim to third place in the conference with only the 7 to 0 defeat by Illinois to mar its record. Five conference victories were won by Chicago.

Minnesota found herself in fourth place, with victories from Northwestern and Iowa, a tie with Wisconsin and a loss to Michigan Iowa won half and lost half of its six games with victories from Purdue, Ohio State and Northwestern and defeats by Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota. Thus fifth place was shared with Indiana, which defeated Northwestern and Purdue and lost to Chicago and Wisconsin.

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Victory for Yale over Harvard, the first time since the resumption of gridiron play between the two after the war, entailing as it did, the first Blue touchdown since Ted Coy, who went over in 1907, was a great relief to Yale men but it was mingled joy and disappointment for Tad Jones. Jones, Yale's head coach, published his memoirs of the game today, revealing that he believed the 1923 Blue eleven to be one of the greatest machines in the university's history and that he lost full title to his distinction by the wet and muddy gridiron which forced it to abandon its long arranged plans and play Harvard's game.

While the merits of Yale's 13 to 0 victory were being debated, the Army and Navy teams returned to their respective homes from their scoreless tie at the Polo Grounds; the "cads" who were "doped" to win, were covered with ancient rites by their colleagues, but the middies, who were counted out by the experts before the war, were expected to be the back door and the receiving committee had nothing to do. Yale's unbroken string of eight victories gave it the "Big Three" title.

After the Cornell Penn contest, Thanksgiving Day contests of greatest importance are those between Columbia and Dartmouth, Pittsburgh and Penn State, Washington and Jefferson and West Virginia; Lehigh and Brown and Marquette and Vermont.

As A Matter of Fact

BY HARRY BRADBURY
Sports Editor.

McGraw's remark to the effect that he wouldn't part with Frank Frisch for any other player in the National league, has been the cause for a great deal of speculation and argument among members of the Hot Stove league. It is certain that arguments will last a long time so far as Frisch being more valuable to a team than Hornsby; if McGraw considers his argument from a box office point of view, and is earnest in his claim that he wouldn't trade Frisch for any other player in baseball, wonder if it is out of order to call attention to Ruth. But then Frisch is a great ball player, and figuring that he is not as old as Hornsby is very likely the most valuable player in the older organization. He has a remarkable career since joining the Giants in 1912. In the four years he has been with the team, he has had his share in three world's series. He has earned $50,000 in these four years and added to that

BEFORE HE JOINED THE GIANTS

Before Frisch joined the Giants, career when he took Larry Doyle's position at second base for the Giants in the memorable games against the Cincinnati Reds. He played phenomenal ball, and it can be truthfully said he was not to blame if the Reds did beat the Giants to the pennant. The next season he was the Giants regular third baseman. He had never played in the position in his school days. Frisch was out of the game for a long time in 1920, and McGraw, as well as other wise baseball men, said that the Giants would have won that season if he had been at his regular position.

SEVEN BOSTON PLAYERS WITH GIANTS

McGraw believed that in letting Baneroff go to the Boston club, he will get the same satisfactory results from Frisch as captain of the team, and it seems almost certain that he will get the appointment, as soon as McGraw returns from his European trip. There are seven members of the Giants who were at one time on the Boston roster. By the deal which sends Baneroff to the great shortstop of the Giants, together with Stengel and Cunningham, comes Southworth and Oeschger, counting them together with Art Nehf, Jack Watson, Hugh McQuillan, Herb Gowdy and John Scott makes that number and also

WHO WILL WIN THE BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP

There are a good many billiard players who believe that Welker Cochran, may have a whole lot to say as to who is champion, after the tie-off games are played in Chicago for the 1924 championship. It is this young man's sold ambition to be called by that exalted title. He has been playing in world's title matches for over five years. In the last tourney he gained a whole lot of confidence in himself, and it was the first time that he ever defeated Hoppe. He has in good condition and have much reserve power for line and backfield. A heavy field slowed up the smooth running Wittenberg machine Friday in a game with Washington on the field at New Concord as a consequence the Black and Magenta held the Lutherans to two touchdowns. Both of these markers were scored by Sam Churchman, right halfback, whose individual score for the season now totals 36 points, and whose score is second only to Ted Tukey of O. W. U.

Wittenberg should complete the season with a sparkling win over Ohio Northern, played to a capacity crowd in the stadium. A victory will mean a season's total of 6 on the win side and one defeat. Fully ruling that classes will be held on the day following Thanksgiving will mean that hundreds of students who had planned to go home Friday, will attend the game in the afternoon.

ADA, Ohio — Special to The Lima News — After barely winning over Bluffton College last week, tenberg can stop him, the downstate college ought not have great difficulty in defeating the Ada outfit.

NIN FINISH GRIDIRON CAREERS

AKRON — Nine Akron university football players will end their gridiron careers this week. Captain Eddie Kregenow, end; Bus Willard, end; Barnes, guard; Stevens, tackle; Minnich, guard; Kniffin, fullback; Stump, guard; Verlin Jenkins, fullback, and Pfeifle, sub quarterback are the blue and gold squad members who will be lost. All except Pfeifle, Willard and Minnich, have played three seasons.

In the two ends, Kregenow and Willard, Akron will lose two of the best wing men ever developed here, and two of the best in the Ohio conference. Kregenow was named on the second All-Ohio team last year, while Willard should be mentioned in connection with such selections this fall. Stevens, Barnes and Minnich are also rated as good linemen of the past few years here, while Kniffin, Stump and Verlin Jenkins are backfield men of three years experience.

The Rubber City team will face the Methodists this week in condition worse than that of the Miami game last Saturday, it is believed. In addition to Jean Smith, fullback, H. Jenkins, halfback and Brown, guard, all of whom were not fit to play in the Miami game, Akron will not have the services of Stump,

AMONG CAGERS

After having lost their first two starts of the season to Delphos and Lafayette respectively, St. John's High school basketball team is practicing in an endeavor to win their first home game of the season to be played with the strong Beavertown High squad, Thanksgiving evening, at the St. John's hall.

Beavertown this season, have one of the strongest basketball quintets of any high school in this section of the state. Just recently they defeated the strong Dunkirk high team which team walloped St. Rose Friday night by a score of 13 to 9. So it can be readily seen that St. John's have no easy task in front of them against Beavertown.

St. John's will probably employ the same lineup as in the past two games as Captain Kayser who was injured in the Lafayette game has recovered sufficiently to again be in uniform. The south side saints lineup for the Beavertown game will consist of Kayser (c) and Farley, forwards. Vansky center, Schrock and Johnson guards.

Wapak Give Boxing Show Wednesday

The Wapakoneta Athletic club will pull off their second boxing show of the season at the Opera house in that city Wednesday night. The club has gotten together a very attractive card which should afford boxing adherents plenty of excitement. Don Bass and Earl Richter, will go 4 rounds, at 120 pounds. Martin H. Harts, the Mansfield demon, at Tommy Sparks, of Cincinnati, a down on the hill for 8 rounds at 125. Sparks is spoken of as a tough customer. And it seems certain that Harts will not have the picking against this boy that he has found in the several bouts he has boxed during the past few months.

The star bout of the evening carded between Joe Zimmerman and Frankie Beal, of Nuncle, at 12 pounds. They will box 12 rounds. Both boys are very clever and hard punchers.

Jake Goss and "Babe" Breas, box at Fort Wayne, before the Business Men's club, Tuesday evening and not at Wapakoneta as previously stated. This bout is attractive a great deal of attention and there will be a large delegation of Lim fans, witness the bout.

JOE FOX-RICHARDS

DAYTON, O.—(Special to Lim News).—Max Yinger of the New Dayton amusement company, announces that he has signed Joe Fox, feather-weight champion of the British Isles and holder of the Lord Lonsdale belt for a twelve round decision bout with Block Richards at Lakeside park arena Wednesday night. In tackling Fox Richards will be taking on one of the best feather-weights in the country. Fox has met and defeated such men as Johnny Kilbane, Eugene Ciri, Babe Herman, Andy Chaney, Danny Frush, Tommy Noble, and just recently knocked out Billy Marchant in one round. He has an international reputation and the North Dayton club was forced to guarantee him a larger sum than any fighter ever received in this city to get him to tackle Blockie in a decision contest.

They don't teach this in school

WE spend eight, twelve or even sixteen years fitting ourselves to make money, but not so much as an hour in learning how to make that money work and produce MORE money for us.

We work hard—and manage to save some money—but most of us STOP THERE when if we went just a step further and put our savings TO WORK we could materially increase our earnings.

For instance: do you know that only $910 if put to work can be made to earn $60 more a year for you?

It's not hard to put money to work to produce MORE money. Like everything else; it's easy IF you know how.

Any one who would be interested in putting money to work can easily and quickly learn how to do so by reading a little booklet we have published. It is illustrated and printed in two colors. #### BY CADJE

ACORDIAL reception was given Sunday to Hal Kitter, the comedian, when he returned to the New Orpheum theater, after an absence of one year, for an engagement of two weeks.

He presented his own "Live, Love and Laugh" company and scored a hit. But the Kitter is the outstanding star and as clever as he ever was, he is by no means the whole show. There is too much other talent in the company for that. But the inimitable Hal's monologues are one of the best numbers in the entire performance.

Strangely enough, his little daughters, Betty Jean, 5, and Baby Ruthie, 4, are his closest rivals for individual honors. The two little tots are "show folk" in the truest sense of the word and have a grace and ease on the stage which might be envied by many a seasoned adult performer.

Betty Jean leads the chorus on the program. Baby Ruthie also is a star. With her older sister she presents one of the best juvenile dancing acts ever seen at the Orpheum and her wit and melody also are worthy of note.

Two pleasing singers with excellent voices, a catchy chorus and the Memphis Melody Five jazz symphonists, add to the quality of the show. The performance has a real plot, in which Kitter shines to advantage and keeps the audience interested as well as amused.

"Abie's Irish Rose"

MANAGER CLARK announces that he has booked "Abie's Irish Rose" for three days and Wednesday matinee at the Faurot, beginning next Monday. It is not exaggeration to state that this attraction, from a box office point of view has attracted as great a following as any other comedy that has been produced in the history of the American theatre.

It played eleven weeks in Cleveland to capacity audiences and had the record for continuous performances at Columbus, when it finished a six weeks run. It is in its second year at the Broadway theatre in New York.

It is certain that no recent play has met the unanimous approval of the masses as this one has. It is from the pen of practically an unknown playwright, Anna Nichols, it has the same history as some of the most substantial hits. When she submitted it to producers in New York it was laughed at and so little did they think of it, that Miss Nichols, after she had scraped up sufficient capital to produce it herself, was left entirely alone. They gave her just one week. Despite the adverse reviews, the public welcomed the play and it was an assured success.

It is purely a comedy; delightful and clean; but there must be something else, perhaps the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin.

LIVESTOCK BOARD TO MEET

May Employ Agent to Succeed Carson F. Mertz

Board of directors of the Allen-co Livestock Association will meet in the livestock office Monday night to consider the employment of a man to succeed Carson F. Mertz, who has tendered his resignation.

County Agent H. J. Ridge has received a number of enrollment blanks for the "Better Sires-Better Stock" crusade being conducted in Ohio. The extension department of Ohio State university has prepared a sign to be posted on farms by all farmers who enroll. The sign shows that pure bred sires are exclusively used on farms displaying them.

Monday night a program will be given by the Rockport community at the home of Herbert Marshall near Rockport.

Tuesday night Shawnee-tv community will give a program at Shawnee-tv house. Election of officers also will be held.

County club winners who were champions in club work in Allen-co returned Saturday from Columbus where they were guests of the extension department at the ninth annual gathering of boy and girl companions. The champions in this county were May Shulaw, Jackson-tp; Lenora Sprague, Shawnee-tp; Margaret Powell, Sugar Creek-tp; Homer Stalter, Spencer-tp. All declared they had a fine time and felt well repaid for the efforts the past year.

Attention of Allen-co women is again called to the meeting of the leaders of home-management project to be held at the county agent's office Tuesday, December 4. Demonstration on how to make fireless cookers and a review of the work done regarding studies of kitchens will feature the program.

DANCING IN GOVERNOR'S MANSION IS BARRED

FRANKFORT, Ky.— "There will be no dancing in the executive mansion during my term as governor."

This is the statement made today by William Jason Fields, governor-elect of Kentucky. Meanwhile preparations for the grand inaugural ball on the night of December 10 go merrily on, while Fields and his wife plan to remain at their home in Olive Hill during the festivities.

Governor-elect Fields also said that if any church denomination "care to use the executive mansion for prayer meetings, they are welcome to it at any time."

The Fields regime promises to be one of the most religiously inclined Kentucky has experienced in many years. The future governor has chosen as his secretary Rev. George C. Waggoner, of Scott-co, a minister of Christian Church who is expected to wield much influence in the new administration.

A real Thanksgiving dinner will be served at the Barr hotel Wednesday from 2 to 5 p. m. to children of Lima who have been unfortunate or who otherwise would not enjoy a dinner during the Thanksgiving season. This treat to the children has been made possible thru the kindness of C. O. Barr, the proprietor. The dinner will be served in the main dining hall and will be replete in Thanksgiving day atmosphere.

Following the dinner the children will be the hosts of the management of the Lyric theatre, when a feature and good comedy will be shown.

SCOUT MASTERS MEET TUESDAY

Plans to be Laid for Christmas Work of Organization

Lynn Timmerman, president of the Lima Scout council, has issued a call for a special meeting of the scout masters of the city to be held at scout headquarters Tuesday evening to lay plans for Christmas activities. J. M. Butcher, regional director, with headquarters in Columbus, will attend the meeting and may present his recommendation for a scout executive.

Timmerman said Monday morning that the boy scouts are going to be organized especially to bring Christmas cheer. They will go among the homes of the wealthy people and collect toys for distribution among the poor children of the city, and will also act as messengers for various organizations which are going to distribute Christmas cheer among the needy of the city.

Timmerman said Monday morning that he has received no word from Director Butcher relative to the scout executive. At the meeting of the scout council in the Barr hotel last week the council directed Butcher to get a scout executive and have him here ready to go to work December 1.

LABOR SECRETARY REPLIES TO NEWSPAPER'S REBUKE

CHICAGO—James J. Davis, secretary of labor, says in a letter to the Chicago Tribune that the recent admission of approximately 4,000 immigrants brought to New York on the steamships Leviathan, Majestic and Berengaria was in accordance with definite provision of the law, and takes the newspaper to task for what he calls seeking to rebuke a public officer without first obtaining the true facts from that official.

The Tribune's editorial to which Mr. Davis took exception was captioned "Let's Be Humane to U. S. For A Change" and commented upon reports that the secretary had authorized admittance of the immigrants brought over on the ships although the quotas from their respective countries were reported filled.

The letter as printed today is dated "Washington, November 24."

CROSSING GUARD PLAN IS MADE

Fund Shortage Holds up Deal. Bingham Says Monday

Plans for a special uniformed guard at the Erie railroad crossing on S. Main-st. were presented to City Manager Bingham Monday morning by Supt. J. G. June of the railroad. Because of lack of funds it is doubtful if the city can go along on the proposition.

Superintendent June suggested that the railroad employ a uniformed traffic officer, with full police powers to guard the crossing during the daylight hours, the city to pay a portion of his expense over and above what the railroad pays for crossing watchmen. This amounts to $85. The difference between the $85 and the salaries the city pays its traffic officers would be borne by the city under June's plans.

"The idea is a good one and it would undoubtedly pay the city to go along but the trouble is we have no money," said Bingham. "The funds for paying what policemen and firemen we now have are exhausted and we have to issue bonds to meet their salaries."

SHORT SHAVINGS

At that, few of us are so lazy that we cannot watch other people work.

Now that the papers have told us it takes a curious of marks to buy a pound of sausage, we have gotten the idea that the Germans are turning out more marks than sausage.

Most of the noise for an equal distribution of wealth is being made by those who have their share—and no more.

Why is it that when a married man gets a black eye by running into the garage door at night, he feels obliged to explain to everyone the next day?

Now that we are to have an "Apple Week" it might be a good plan for the doctors to plan on a little vacation.

The modern woman has a hard time these days between the boy's radio in the attic and the old man's still in the cellar.

Summing it all up, the true spendthrift is the young man that makes up with his best girl just a week before Christmas.
